BULLETIN
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 11 astronauts caught an Agena satellite in the record time of 80 minutes today after pursuing it across the skies at five miles a second.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 11 astronauts thundered into orbit today, ending three days of frustrating delay, and began stalking an Agena satellite across the sky at five miles a second.

Two lonely explorers speeding through uncharted heavens. Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. aimed to rendezvous and link up with the Agena in record time.

The seasoned pilots, who endured two 11th hour postponements and a last-minute, quarter-hour delay of these three adventurous days in space, relied on sensitive instruments and their judgment as fliers to seek out the fleeting target.

"Eleven is go," Conrad exclaimed as the booster rocketed him skyward from Cape Kennedy.

"You are go for M equal

Gemini 11 Flight Gets Under Way

one," the Mission Control Center told the astronauts as their tiny spaceship swept into orbit more than 100 miles above the earth.

This was the designation for Gemini 11's plan to rendezvous with the Agena target satellite in the first orbit.

"Roger," replied command pilot Conrad.

As the great rocket rose sky-

ward, green lights flashed

across the boards in the control center in Houston, Tex.

"Everything looks good," the control center told the astronauts about half way through the six-minute flight of the Titan 2.

From atop the Titan rocket, the astronauts had followed the progress of the Atlas as it darted away at 8:05 a.m. and blasted the 26-foot-long Agena into a path around the earth.

Their countdown started and interrupted twice last week, then ticked smoothly toward the intended liftoff of 10:42 a.m.

They couldn't see the fiery departure of the Atlas because their cramped capsule faced straight up. But they were given radio reports and were told that the 7,000-pound Agena had raced into orbit.

The space agency said initial tracking reports indicated the Agena's orbit ranged from 183 to 189 miles above the earth, very near the 185-mile-high circular orbit that was planned.

Just two minutes before the Atlas-Agena was to lift off, at 8:49 a.m., a 16-minute delay was forced by a balky hatch over command pilot Conrad in the Gemini 11 spacecraft.

Checks showed it hadn't sealed properly.

Technicians reopened the hatch, then closed it again and finally got the problem whiped.

Besides the trouble with the hatch, there were two other minor problems.

A countdown clock on one rocket had to stop momentarily to become perfectly timed with another clock entering the countdown, and a sliver of metal was found in a fuel line that feeds Gemini 11's Titan 2 rocket.

The sliver was "noticed, isolated and ignored," officials said, because two filters stood between it and the Titan 2 rocket, eliminating any chance that it might have caused a problem. No countdown hold was called.

The start of the three-day flight was delayed on Friday when a pinhole leak was found in the Titan fuel system. It was plugged with a gooey seal worth less than a penny.

Another postponement was called Saturday when engineers got a faulty signal from the Atlas that performed so flawlessly this morning. The signal indicated trouble in the automatic pilot. But an all-night check showed it was only a high wind and a sensitive amplifier and nothing was replaced in the rocket.

Racial Strife Flares Anew At Atlanta

Calm Returns Today After Two Nights Of Violence In South

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Racial violence-accented with relieving marches—erupted in a predominantly Negro area of Atlanta for two straight nights.

Injuries were light in the rioting that continued until calm was restored early today. Several arrests were made.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. threw open the doors of his office and appealed for Negro leaders to present their problems and possible solutions to the violence.

Allen, who waded into the middle of riots in his city Tuesday and Saturday, rushed to the scene again Sunday night after a blazing fire bomb signaled the beginning of more violence.

Only a few hours earlier he had offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the death of Hubert Verner, 16.

Sporadic violence punctured the rioting Sunday night and intermittently fractured a volatile, unspoken truce brought about largely through the efforts of Negro and white ministers and social workers.

The Saturday night rioting, several miles away from that of Tuesday, was spawned by the death of Verner and the wounding of a companion, Roy Milton Wright, also 16.

Investigators reported a car carrying a white man and a white woman had slowly passed when shots rang out felling the youths.

Witnesses' accounts led officers to believe the gunman apparently thought his companion had been insulted by Verner and Wright.

Police Sgt. M. J. Spears, 42, quickly arrived to probe the shooting. He was talking to a crowd of Negroes when he was felled by what officers first said was a shot from the crowd but later termed only as an object.

The combined incidents touched off rioting which drew hundreds of Negro residents into the streets for rock and bottle throwing with some of the missiles smashing car windows.

One newsmen, James Gilmier of WSB-TV, suffered a skull fracture and underwent brain surgery Sunday. He was reported in good condition.

Several members of the crowds roving the blocks-long trouble spot early today tried to negotiate with Allen. Their demands ranged from a removal of all the riot-equipped police to a release of jailed Stokely Carmichael, national director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

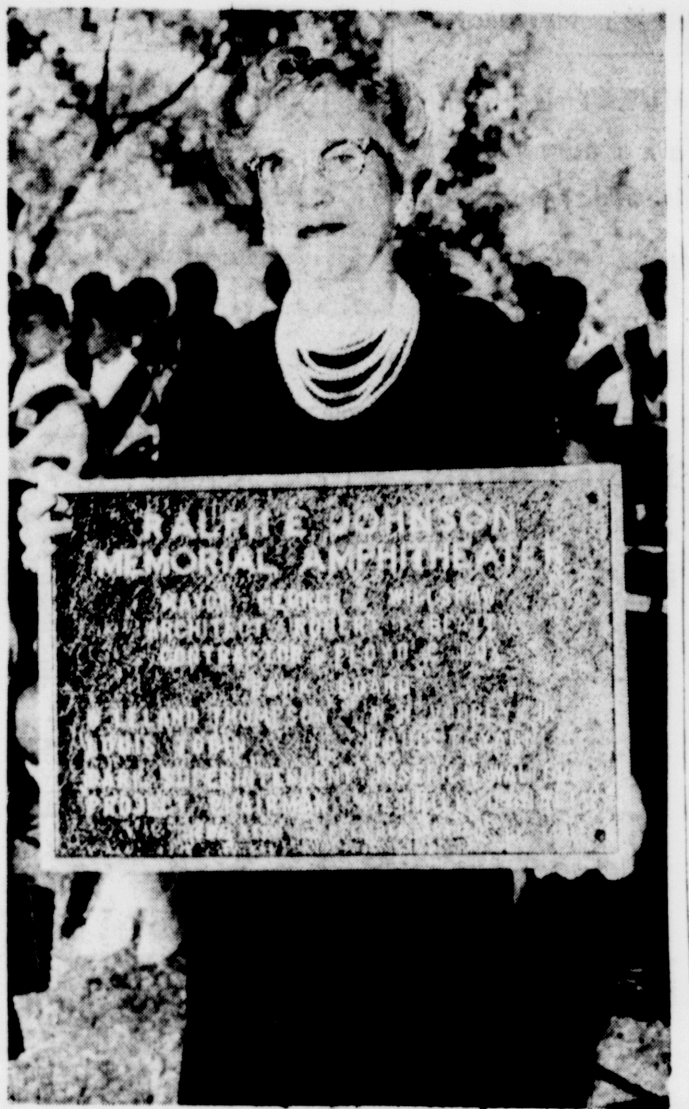

Carmichael was jailed on charges of inciting to riot following the Tuesday uproar after he had been in the area during the formative stages of the trouble.

De Gaulle Looks On In French Atom Test

PAPEETE, Tahiti (AP)—Clad in gray protective coveralls and antiflash dark glasses, President Charles de Gaulle watched France's third Pacific nuclear test from the bridge of a cruiser.

The atomic device was launched Sunday from a balloon off the French Polynesian atoll of Mururoa at an altitude of about 1,500 feet. Officials said it was the largest French nuclear explosion to date.

No yield was given but indications were it was in the range of 100 kilotons, or equal to 100,000 tons of TNT.

DEDICATION HELD. Mrs. Ralph Johnson, widow of the late East Liverpool High School band director for which the new Thompson Park Memorial Amphitheater is named, is shown with the plaque presented at the dedication attended by 250 Sunday afternoon at the park.

Five Flee Reds

Bulldozer Used In Freedom Dash

By MARTIN ZUCKER

BERLIN (AP)—Rags and steel plates protected five young refugees from Communist gunfire as they crashed into West Berlin in a bulldozer.

Two young men, their pregnant wives, and the 4-year-old son of one of the couples crouched Sunday in the speeding bulldozer as it crossed two ditches and crashed through four barbed-wire fences before hitting a tree a few yards inside West Berlin.

Two East German border guards ran toward the vehicle with submachine guns blazing.

"We had to get out of the bulldozer. The women jumped first, then we pulled up the bottom of a (garden) fence, let the women crawl through, and followed them," the 24-year-old professional bulldozer operator related.

A witness said one of the refugees, carrying the child in his arms, repeatedly cried "Are we in the West? Are we in the West?"

They were taken to a hospital, where one man and one woman were treated for slight bullet wounds of the head and released.

West Berlin police said East German border guards fired more than 100 rounds at the fleeing vehicle. Thirty-eight bullets hit it, some piercing the thin armor plating, police said. The driver explained that they had only enough armor plate to shield the gas tank and windows.

"We stuffed rags into the back of the bulldozer's cabin because we ran out of steel plates. That's how we found the way into freedom which was in our hearts for so long," he said.

The driver, his 26-year-old wife, their son, a friend, 29, and his wife, 18, declined to give their names. Both men worked at a nationalized construction company garage about 800 yards from the border.

An East German armored personnel carrier pulled the vehicle back to the East about 90 minutes after the escape. All three Western commanders protested the gunfire, terming it "totally irresponsible behavior on the part of the border guards, involving also grave danger to lives in West Berlin."

This date in 1965—30 killed!
DRIVE WRECKLESSLY

Wendell N. Clark, 51, of 117 W. Park Ave., Columbiana, steward of the Columbiana Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, died Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in Salem City Hospital of injuries received when his auto turned into the path of a tractor-trailer early Friday on Rt. 14, east of Rt. 7.

He succumbed after undergoing surgery for severe internal injuries received in the collision.

The patrol said the accident still is under investigation. According to patrolmen, Mr. Clark turned north in front of a tractor-trailer operated by Anthony Leone, 47, of 19 Pine St., Leontia.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the White Funeral Home in Coolville, Ohio. Burial will be in Ireland Cemetery, Coolville. Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

A VFW honor guard conducted services for Mr. Clark Sunday night at Stark Memorial in Salem.

A resident of Columbiana for 20 years, Mr. Clark was born Jan. 18, 1915, in Coolville, a

U.S. Planes Again Blast North Viet

Heaviest Assaults Of War Unleashed; All Quiet At Front

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American warplanes pounded North Viet Nam with the heaviest raids of the war Sunday, the U.S. command announced.

B52 bombers struck today at North Vietnamese troops in the demilitarized zone in follow-up raids to tactical strikes made Sunday by Air Force canberras and Phantom bombers.

A U.S. spokesman said American pilots flew a record 171 missions against the Communist North hitting at bridges, fuel depots and transportation facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas and the south Panhandle.

Pilots taking part in Sunday's raids reported damaging or destroying 107 cargo barges, 11 junks, 19 bridges, 38 supply buildings, 13 trucks and one missile site.

Over South Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew 363 strike sorties Sunday, claiming more than 200 enemy bunkers, tunnels, huts, trenches and fortified positions were destroyed or damaged. A sortie is a single combat mission by a single plane.

Ground action in South Viet Nam continued in a lull and United States and Vietnamese military spokesmen reported no major enemy contacts.

The 171 air missions over the North was well over the previous high of 156 raids of Aug. 26. A U.S. spokesman would not say how many individual plane strikes the 171 missions involved but such large numbers would almost certainly mean 400 to 500 single-plane sorties.

In raids Sunday against the demilitarized zone Air Force B57 Canberras and F4C Phantoms reported touching off 55 secondary explosions and eight secondary fires.

This indicated bomb hits on North Vietnamese ammunition and fuel dumps in the once neutral buffer zone between North and South Viet Nam.

These raids in the northern half of the zone were followed by the B52 strikes today in the southern half, which were aimed at North Vietnamese troop concentrations.

Pilots carried the war to the enemy as U.S. and allied troops remained on field duty, replacing South Vietnamese troops who were on election duty Sunday. An estimated 75 per cent of the voters went to the polls despite stepped-up terrorist activity.

B52 bombers struck at three target areas about 35 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese coastal city of Qui Nhon.

Balloonist Completes Transcontinental Trip

Tracy Barnes, 27, of Chester, S. C., landed his hot air balloon Sunday at Villars, N. J., completing a 3,000-mile journey which took four months and more than 200 airborne hours from San Diego, Calif.

Barnes said he reached 25,000 feet near Pittsburgh to set a hot-air balloon record. Among his troubles were smashing against a mountain peak 100 miles east of San Diego and snagging his balloon in the Allegheny River near Tarentum north of Pittsburgh.

"It was great. I felt like the piper," he said after landing yesterday.

Called 'Beginning Of End'

Communists Suffer Blow In South Viet Nam Voting

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said today that 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's voters had turned out for the national elections which spelled "the beginning of the end for the Communists."

"We now have the conditions for final victory," the premier said at a gala diplomatic and press conference at which all members of the ruling military council appeared.

The new assembly of 117 representatives elected to write a new constitution will meet Sept. 26 and Ky said they should finish their work "as soon as possible."

The new assembly, as announced by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, who was in charge of the elections, included 22 teachers, 20 military men, 18 civil servants, 17 provincial councillors, 15 professional people, eight farmers, three judges and three others.

Only one woman, of 18 female candidates, was successful. The average age of the assembly is 40.

Gen. Thang said that on election day there were 5,289,652 eligible voters. Of this number 4,274,812 went to the polls.

Thang admitted that among the voters some cast blank ballots of protest, but said the number was far smaller than the 15 per cent who cast defaced ballots in the 1965 provincial elections. He gave no figure, however.

Ky, resplendent in a black tailored uniform, lavender neck scarf and six rows of bright ribbons on his chest, said the elections were "a victory of the entire free world against the efforts of evil forces to enslave mankind."

"Never before have the Communists tried as hard to sabotage anything as they did yesterday," Ky said. "Never before have they failed as yesterday."

"This announces the beginning of the end for the Communists," he added. The results, Ky exulted, "were beautiful" but he said: "We have not yet achieved the final victory. There are many obstacles before us and the more we achieve success the more the enemy will redouble his efforts."

"However," he added, "this victory permits us to believe in final victory. We do now have the conditions for final victory." Ky was followed by chief of state Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu.

"The Hanoi regime," Thieu said, will have to have second thoughts about the election they so roundly condemned as a farce."

The election was the first step toward restoring civilian government and it demonstrated that Ky's regime has effective administrative control over the majority of South Viet Nam.

It was a dramatic defeat for the Communists who mounted a campaign of terror in the days preceding the voting and a slap in the face for the once-powerful radical Buddhist minority which had called for a boycott of the polling.

The assembly will have six months to draw up a new constitution after it meets Sept. 26 to replace the one which was abrogated after the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

Then more elections are to be held to fill whatever offices the constitution sets up. Almost certainly the country is expected to end up with a presidency and a balancing legislature.

The Communist terror campaign, which had centered on Saigon and surrounding Gia Dinh Province, left at least 28 dead and 65 wounded in the final two days.

Burglars Hit At Four Spots In Wellsville

2 Service Stations, Car Wash And Used Car Lot Are Struck

Two service stations, a car wash and a used car lot office were burglarized in Wellsville over the weekend.

Police said the burglars struck the four establishments, all located within a seven-block area, some time after 3:15 a. m. Sunday.

Morrell's Service Station at 15th and Commerce St., the American Service Station at 22nd and Clark Ave., the West End Car Wash and Jim's Used Car Lot office at 17th and Commerce St. were hit, apparently in quick succession, police said.

At Morrell's, owned by Gay Morrell of Wellsville R. D. 1, a heavy screen mesh on the north side of the building was removed and the window broken. Inside, the burglars rifled a cigarette machine, removing the small change and all the cigarettes. The thieves also stole some garage tools, police reported.

Two tires were stolen from the American station, operated by John Brown of Salineville. The cigarette machine also was rifled. The station also had been burglarized on Aug. 29.

At the car wash, the thieves rifled the coin machines. Although there apparently wasn't much money inside, some $125 damage resulted to the machine. The car wash is owned by Rocco Volino of Russell Heights.

At the car lot, operated by James Thrasher of Township Line Rd., nothing was reported missing.

Key Contests Involved

11 States Vote Tuesday In 'Biggest' Primary Day

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Associated Press Writer

Tuesday is the biggest primary day of the year. Eleven states vote and contests include notable scraps for Democratic nominations for the Senate and governor in Minnesota.

Maryland and Wisconsin also have hot battles over Democratic nominations for governor and New Hampshire Republicans have six-way struggle on over their party's Senate nomination.

Other states voting are Arizona, Colorado, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Utah and Vermont.

Statistically, the voting will clear 178-plus candidates for places on the ballot Nov. 8 when 435 House members, 35 senators and 35 governors are to be elected.

Democrats and Republicans are making nominations for 74 House seats, 9 Senate seats and 6 governorships—a total of 178 candidates. There are also some primary contests, chiefly in New Jersey, over ballot places as independents.

After Tuesday's voting, the states to hold primaries will be Georgia, Wednesday; Louisiana, runoff Saturday; Washington, Sept. 20, and Hawaii, Oct. 1. A Georgia runoff, which virtually is certain, would be held Sept. 28.

In both Massachusetts and Minnesota, the Democratic fights involve candidates endorsed by state party conventions and challengers who appealed to the voters from the convention decisions.

Edward J. McCormack Jr., former attorney general, was endorsed for Massachusetts governor. Kenneth P. O'Donnell, who was on President John F. Kennedy's staff, is running against him for the nomination.

Boston Mayor John F. Collins is contesting with former Gov. Endicott Peabody, the endorsed candidate, for the Massachusetts

Senate nomination. Thomas B. Adams, Boston businessman, also is running.

The winner will go against Republican Edward W. Brooke, state attorney general who is a Negro, in what is expected to be one of the top Senate contests of the year. Brooke is unopposed for his party's nomination. Republican Gov. John A. Volpe is unopposed for renomination.

In Minnesota, the Democrats who operate with a hyphenated tie to the Farmer-Labor party, spurned Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag for endorsement at their convention.

Rolvaag now is trying to prove the convention made a mistake in endorsing Lt. Gov. A.M. (Sandy) Keith to take over the governor's chair. Polls give him a splendid chance of doing that.

Otherwise the Minnesota primary prospect is Democratic renomination of Sen. Walter F. Mondale and Republican nomination of Harold LeVander for governor and Robert A. Forsythe for senator. All three have nominal primary opposition.

MARYLAND—Eight candidates for Democratic nomination for governor with Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan and Rep. Carlton P. Sickles regarded as chief contenders and contractor George P. Mahoney as a dark horse. Spiro T. Agnew, Baltimore County executive (administrative officer), appears sure of Republican nomination although there is field of five.

WISCONSIN—Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucy and National Committeeman David Carley contesting for Democratic nomination for governor. Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles unopposed for renomination.

NEW JERSEY—Sen. Clifford Case unopposed for Republican renomination. Warren W. Wilentz big favorite among five

Two Couples Die In Ohio Plane Crash

Rented Craft Hits Poles And Wires At Chagrin Falls Field

CLEVELAND (AP)—The rented single engine plane, with two couples up for a pleasure ride, started its approach to Chagrin Falls Airport.

But the pilot apparently wanted to try it again. There were 40-foot-high power lines strung along Bell Street about 700 feet north of the end of the runway. The plane didn't clear.

"I saw the wing hit that utility pole and the wires," said Alfred Sheer, who was walking toward his house from the barn. "The wing sheared a big splinter off the pole. It looked to me like the plane was heading for the house. So I started running to get my wife."

The plane crashed into Sheer's front yard Sunday and caught fire. The two young couples were killed.

A neighbor said the plane came down 20 feet from where Sheer had been and 40 feet from the house.

"I knew it was going to catch fire," said Sheer, of South Russell in neighboring Geauga County. The airport is in Cuyahoga County.

"I ran to the garage and got my fire extinguisher," Sheer said. "As I was running back toward the plane, I heard a scream. Then there was a big ball of fire."

Killed were John Velmimesis, 26, of 5388 E. 126 St., Garfield Heights, the pilot, his wife, Diane, 23, and their friends, James Chepes, 24, of 5926 edge-wood Rd., Mayfield Heights, and his 21-year-old wife, Carol.

Five Injured As Blast Rips Dover Home

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—An early morning dynamite bomb blasted a home 1 1/2 miles southeast of Bolivar today, injuring a family of five, two of them seriously. Tuscarawas County Sheriff's deputies reported.

The father, Lloyd Gallion, was outside the home when the explosion occurred shortly after midnight. He told deputies he fired five shots from a shotgun at a man he saw leaving the home.

Deputies said the Gallion home has been the scene of three small and unexplained fires in the past two weeks. The home has been under surveillance by deputies. A special deputy, George Bair, was in the home about an hour before the explosion.

Mrs. Faye Gallion, 34, and her daughter Brenda, 16, were in poor condition at Dover Union Hospital. Two other children, Phillip, 12, and Duane, 8, were in fair condition. The father was treated and released.

Gallion, a time study man at the Republic Steel Corp. in Massillon, has also received several threatening phone calls at his home, deputies said.

Deputies said they called in demolition experts from the Ravenna Arsenal to investigate the blast along with agents from the state Bureau of Criminal Identification.

GOP Lashed During Rally

Michael Johnson, executive vice president of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO, and State Sen. Leonard Staisey, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, attacked the Republican party's program Saturday night during the annual Union Label and Services Trades Council of Pennsylvania convention at the Broadhead Hotel in Beaver Falls.

Both speakers pointed to what they said the Democrats have done for the labor movement over the past years.

The theme of the convention was the use of the union label and its "advantages to people in all walks of life."

Johnson, with obvious reference to the GOP, said "Our support is being sought by certain individuals whose political party has traditionally been counted as our enemy." He went on to say that GOP has attempted to destroy "hard-fought gains of labor."

The union executive pointed out that the opposition party had a history of supporting the "coal and iron police" and recruited strike-breakers. He also said, "They have been for the use of force to oppose those who would wish to organize the un-organized."

In his closing remarks, Johnson urged the support of the Milton Schapp-Leonard Staisey ticket.

Staisey pointed out that the Democratic record on labor speaks for itself. He said there were many fields in which Pennsylvania ranks low on a national scale, including education and mental health. He spoke of what he termed the

Oklahomans Wait Return Of Their 'Miss America'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — They're dancing in the streets in Oklahoma but it looks like the Sooners will have to wait at least a week to welcome home their winner.

Jane Ann Jayroe, a basketball-bouncing, baton-wielding brunette from Laverne, Okla., today begins to find out the rigors of being Miss America.

From the moment she was crowned Miss America of 1967 Saturday night here, she has faced one camera flash after another. Today she goes to Philadelphia for a television interview.

Then, starting tonight, she'll spend at least a week in New York taking the first steps of her 200,000-mile journey as Miss America. Her personal appearances will bring her an estimated $75,000, but, above all, she's looking forward to the experience.

For example, she has never traveled in an airplane. "I'm looking forward to it," she said Sunday. "But with butterflies."

Oklahoma seems impatient for her triumphant return. As the news came to her hometown of 1,937 inhabitants, horns blew, people shouted. Even the fire sirens sounded.

And celebrations were held all around the street, Oklahoma City

University students indicated they might walk out of their classes and even the school's president said:

"A walkout is as good a way as any to show the school's enthusiasm for Jane Ann. It's an old OCU custom to walk out, and I'm glad to see it come over something like this."

A street dance was planned. One person waiting for the homecoming has a vested interest. He dates her.

Says Rick Schuerman, an OCU junior from St. Louis: "I think modesty is her best quality. She's been in quite a few beauty contests and won every one of them and she's the same old girl."

Jane Ann — Jay-Jay, informally — displayed her charm for newsmen here Sunday. She spoke of her ambitions to be an orchestra conductor but lamented "prejudice against women conductors."

Asked how to spend an evening in Laverne, she answered: "In the summer there's the drive-in and in winter there's basketball."

Her love of music and basketball both come from her family. Her father, E.G. (Pete) Jayroe, coaches the Laverne High School team. And she comes from four generations of music teachers.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — Firemen were called out on an unusual mission here recently. Mrs. Sadie Sell phoned Fire Chief Lawrence Jesse to say she had dropped her contact lenses on the floor in her home and was unable to see to find them. Firemen quickly responded and found the missing lenses.

FORT COLLINS, Colo. — A county weed-burning crew asked for "protection" and a deputy sheriff and a jail trusty were assigned. Chief Investigator C. E. Reese reported the action after the weed-burners complained they had been attacked several times — by a skunk.

Intruder Obtains $800 From East End Station

An intruder who gained entry with a key obtained $800 to $900 in cash and checks Sunday night or early today at an East End Service station, police reported.

The money and checks were taken from a hiding place at Pridemore's Gulf Station at 1120 Pennsylvania Ave., operated by James Pridemore of the Valley Trailer Court at 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

The station was entered sometime between 11 p. m. Sunday and 7 a. m. today, officers said. Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, said the intruder used a key to enter the front door. Pridemore told the officer the checks would be of no use to the thief, as they had been endorsed: "For deposit only."

In a delayed report, the U.S. command announced the loss of an Air Force F4C Phantom jet Saturday over North Viet Nam. Its two-man crew was listed as missing.

U.S. officials said an O1E light observation plane was shot down over South Viet Nam 10 miles southeast of Tuy Hoa Saturday night and its pilot killed.

Eleven waves of Air Force jets pounded enemy missile sites Saturday near Dong Hoi where several U.S. planes were downed recently. Pilots reported knocking out one site and destroying two missiles. Pilots said another site was knocked out 40 miles north of Hanoi.

Leaning On Weak Reeds

Granted that the purpose of all political campaigning is to jar the public out of its customary state of indifference, it may be questioned whether campaigners use sure-fire methods.

One of their favorite methods is the visiting celebrity.

This may be the president of the United States if the campaigner is important enough to ask for top-level help.

It may be a member of the presidents cabinet if the campaigner is important enough to ask for top-level recognition but not important enough to expect top-level help.

It may be any member of the government whose name is well-known and whose views are roughly identical with those of the campaigner. In extreme circumstances it might be anyone at all with a well-known name, or an unknown from the other side of the mountain, on the theory that a celebrity, like an expert, is someone from more than 100 miles away.

This fall if a democrat can't get President Johnson, a cabinet member, a distinguished Democrat, or an undistinguished one he might be able to get Sen. Bobby Kennedy, who is willing to go anywhere as long as he can be seen and heard. He may not help the local yokels, but he can help himself, which is important when seeking a presidential nomination.

The question is whether this method of campaigning gets results for the low men on the political totem pole. Or is this one of those unchallenged techniques of political campaigning in the U.S.A. that wouldn't be worth the effort if anyone ever analyzed it?

Dwight D. Eisenhower tells in a Saturday Review interview why he did not campaign in Illinois for Richard M. Nixon during the closing days of the 1960 campaign. Mr. Nixon and Fred Seaton, secretary of the interior, thought it would be too great a strain on presidential strength.

Mr. Nixon did not want to accede to the presidency through his leader's death or disability. He wanted to win against John F. Kennedy on his own merit. Yet, when he lost, President Eisenhower was blamed by many for not helping him enough.

Could Dwight Eisenhower have carried the day for Richard Nixon? Can Lyndon Johnson save Democratic congressmen afraid of defeat this November? Can George Romney save anyone?

Or, when a candidate is running alone in an off-year election would he be better off to disassociate himself from the weak reeds lucky to bear their own weight when the electoral winds blow?

All In The Line Of Duty

Ten U.S. Army officers needed only 18 minutes to settle a problem that had baffled the best legal minds of the world since the trials of the Nazi war criminals in 1945. Is an individual responsible for national policy?

Ruling on the case of Pvt. Dennis Mora, who had refused to obey an order to go to Viet Nam, the officers found him guilty of disobeying a superior officer and sentenced him to three years' hard labor in prison, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay.

Pvt. Mora's defense was that he believed the undeclared war in Viet Nam to be morally and legally wrong. He did not want to be a future war criminal.

Therefore, he exercised his tentative right, as established in the trials of World War II criminals, to sit in individual judgment and refuse to do what might get him executed if his government lost the war.

And for his pains, he was sentenced to hard labor and humiliation. In sterner circumstances he might have been put before a firing squad and summarily executed.

So much for the argument that individuals can be held responsible for "crimes against humanity." Only if their side loses.

After World War II, the Allies held Germans and Japanese responsible for such crimes. But there were no trials of victors, though they too had committed crimes against humanity, as well as transgressions of the laws and customs of war, perhaps even of plotting aggression—the three categories of war crimes.

The ultimate crime against humanity is war, itself. All acts committed under orders of a military nature are performance of duty—even if it's an Adolf Eichmann slaughtering millions of Jews—on orders. And orders are orders, right or wrong. You obey them, or else.

It didn't take 10 Army officers long to decide that.

Even if no war has been declared, an order to fight is an order to fight—and no questions asked.

Whitman: Guilty As Charged

Suppose Charles J. Whitman, the Austin, Tex., mass murderer had been captured alive and now was standing trial for the murder of 16 people and assault with a deadly weapon on 30 others.

His lawyers would be bearing down on the question of his sanity. Surely no man who had done what Whitman did on that murderous rampage Aug. 1 could be called sane.

The question would be whether Whitman's previous conduct and his behavior on the day of the mass murders, other than the murders themselves, would constitute evidence of insanity, either temporary or permanent.

His lawyers and the medical experts might know nothing about the tumor discovered in his brain. Or if they knew about the existence of a tumor they would not know whether it was malignant.

They would not know that a 32-man panel studying the tumor after Whitman's death could not believe it alone was responsible for his homicidal mania. With the ghastly evidence of 16 deaths arrayed against him, the people who would be prosecuting and defending Charles J. Whitman, had he not been gunned down, might have to ignore the plea he should be treated with mercy because he was sick in the head and had been given a hard time by his father.

They might have had to say Whitman was guilty of the crime he was charged with—no extenuating circumstances. It might have turned out to be a giant step toward getting back to punishment to fit the crime, untrammelled by the pseudo-scientific palaver that currently glosses over all wrong-doing from murder to mugging, from arson to street rioting.

By James Marlow

But the White House said nothing. It let the State Department do the speaking and the State Department brushed the idea aside.

MORE RECENTLY Mansfield truly agitated Johnson when, speaking for the 13-member Senate Democratic Policy committee, he proposed that the Senate quickly pass a resolution saying U.S. forces in Europe should be substantially reduced.

The administration doesn't want any part of troop withdrawal from Europe right now. Dirksen quickly rushed to Johnson's aid by insisting that before the Senate vote on the Mansfield suggestion a Senate committee should hold hearings on it. This would take time and probably will kill the idea altogether.

Every time there is an international crisis, Dirksen backs Johnson, believing you can't let the President down when there is a war on.

He calls himself a "garden variety of Abraham Lincoln," says he has tried to be a "negative brake" on progress when he thinks the country is in danger of moving too fast.

Mansfield and Dirksen, except for the fact that they both get in Johnson's hair at times, are not alike. Mansfield stays more in the background, says little, makes it to the point.

Dirksen is the greatest actor in Congress since the 19th century. He believes in the "oil can" approach to problems. If sometimes he sounds a little too oily it may be because, as one writer said, he has a stained-glass voice.

Odd Facts

While wrinkles in one's skin was once thought to be caused by changes in a material in the connective tissues called elastin, it is now believed that wrinkling is caused by the loss of hyaluronic acid, which has an ability to hold water. Connective fibers of the skin move closer together, thus reducing the firmness of the skin.

There are more than 2,400,000 Americans 45 years of age or older now taking educational courses of some kind or another.

Stuff Of Which Dreams Are Blasted

Labor Courts Halt Strikes

By Victor Riesel

STOCKHOLM — There has not been a major strike in Sweden in 21 years.

Yet this government has been run by the labor movement's own Labor party almost ever since giants and trolls roamed the forest and the Swedes put dragon heads on ships and painted tar crosses above their doors to keep evil spirits away.

Free enterprise - big business makes mighty healthy profits.

As Arne Geijer, leader of the Swedish Trade Union Confederation, explained, they have laws to handle critical strikes, wildcat strikes, and they have a Labor Court—but mostly they have common sense.

Make no mistake about the powers of either labor or management. When the industry-wide contracts expire, mostly on the same winter day, the LO can call a nation wide general strike which it hasn't done since 1909. The employers federation can lock out the unions in all industries across the land. Neither side has exercised such power.

THEY USED TO BATTLE furiously, but decades ago the public tired of the strife. Both sides had to choose between "common sense" or tough regulatory legislation. They chose peace.

The freedom to strike, according to one labor leader, is granted on the theory "the parties shall act in accordance with their responsibility towards society as a whole."

First, there is compulsory arbitration for strikes in public service areas. Transit or electric power just is not cut off by official strikes. Or wildcats, either. The state moves in.

Most important — if the law is broken, union members who violate it are punished, even if it means fining or expelling hundreds, perhaps thousands, from a union. Thus, should anything such as the New York City transit revolt have occurred here, all 35,000 illegal strikers would have been punished. No regional or national legislature would have absolved them as did the New York State Legislature.

This sort of enforcement holds true for the private sector, too. Labor law here, as in every land, is complex. Professional discussions back home complicate it even more.

SIMPLY PUT, the law and tradition work in this fashion: Virtually all union contracts expire at the same time. When the labor-management contracts expire, the bargaining then is done on top by a group of 60 men, half from the employers federation and half from the LO. They in turn appoint a sub-committee of six men—three and three.

They shout and battle and do what comes naturally — fight for their side. But they are always concerned with the big "pot." That is: How much money in increases can Sweden as a whole afford to see its working people get and still stay competitive in the world markets?

How much money in raises and fringes, etc. can be given without inflating the nation's economy, raising prices and hurting the public? The unions say, more. The employers say, less. But since 1945 there have been peaceful settlements.

The big board of 60 labor and management men cut up the pot — so much across the board for all skilled workers in all industries, so much for unskilled, so much differential for women, etc.

ONCE THE AGREEMENT is made on this national level, there can be no strikes. If there are arguments in the various industries, in the various locals, in the various factories, the case goes to the Labor Court set up in 1928. It is a seven-man bench, sitting in Stockholm, from which there is no appeal.

It settles all disputes which threaten a strike or which result in wildcats during the life of the major contract. And there are not many disputes.

Most typical, (which should be of absorbing interest to strike-wrecked America) is the story of the Gothenburg longshoremen. Some years ago, the dockers struck in the Western port of Gothenburg. All other ports were affected. No one knew who spread the word—and some men said sea gulls carried it.

This stoppage violated the agreement.

Under the law, the national longshoremen's leaders had to go to their locals. The chiefs had to call a membership meeting. They had to order the men back to work. They did. When the dock-walkers refused, the employers went to the Labor Court.

This bench has the power to decide whether the national leaders acted in good faith. If the top union chiefs are judged to have simply gone through the motions, the Labor Court can force the union to pay damages to the employer.

IF THE LABOR MEN are found to have acted in good faith, the locals are assessed. And the men are fined.

In the case of the Gothenburg dockers, the men were hit. The Labor Court moved from Stockholm to Gothenburg. It set itself up in the auditorium of a girls' school. It tried 1,000 longshoremen at once. It fined them after ordering them back to work. The fine was taken out of their pay.

In another case, some 300 dockers were expelled from the union. This made it difficult for them to find work.

When the law means business and is enforced, all sides soon learn that industrial peace is mighty good business.

America, attention, please.

Peace In Viet

By David Lawrence

Hanoi Ponders New Course

How to bring peace in Viet Nam without suffering the humiliation of seeming to surrender is bothering the North Viet Nam government just now, as well as the governments of Red China and the Soviet Union.

Since the Chinese foreign minister, Marshal Chen Yi, indicated two weeks ago that the last thing in the world that Red China wants is war with the United States, there have been other signs that maybe peace was at last coming to be recognized as a more desirable way to live than under the pressures of David Lawrence war or threats of war.

Notwithstanding the intimations and the reports that give an impression of a desire to make peace, the Peking government and the Hanoi government now are busily denouncing any such idea as out of the question — except on their own terms.

These maneuvers are by no means surprising. No adversary in the midst of a military conflict will ever indicate publicly a readiness to give in. But there is more than meets the eye in the behavior of the diplomats in Peking, Moscow and Hanoi, as well as in Tokyo.

THE PRESENT DIALOGUE in the press began when the Red Chinese foreign minister informally explained to the editor of a Viennese newspaper that he could not see any sense in a war between Red China and the United States. This was published in U. S. News & World Report about 10 days ago. Confirmation came this week in a report from Tokyo quoting an 11-member group of Japanese public men as having been told by the same high official of the Peking government of a desire to avoid any war between Red China and the United States.

These statements may have unwittingly created an impression of weakness on the part of the Peking regime and an intention to start peace negotiations. Immediately, the Red Chinese ambassador in Warsaw — which has been the meeting place for conferences with the American ambassador for several years — pronounced any such move to end the war in Viet Nam as out of the question. Some members of the Japanese mission, moreover, who were still in Peking quickly denied that they had been given any indications of a willingness on the part of Red China to negotiate with the United States on Viet Nam. This was a bitter pill for the Japanese legislators to swallow, as they had been quoted in their own press in Tokyo only a day or so before as saying that "China is not entirely averse to a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam."

IT ALL HAS a familiar ring in diplomatic history. Evidently the Red Chinese government found itself in somewhat the same position that the United States government did some months ago when it openly acknowledged it had sought peace through various intermediaries. The impression conveyed was that the American government was losing some of its resoluteness in fighting the war.

The Red Chinese are anxious to impress the Hanoi government that they are standing behind it. Hence, any talk of peace out in the open is risky and the Peking government is determined to erase any misconception that they have backed away from the North Viet Nam government.

The position of the Soviet Union is somewhat analogous. It keeps on saying that the United States must, in effect, surrender. The purpose of such comments is to retain the good will and friendship of the North Viet Nam government and to take advantage of any retreat by the Red Chinese out of the Viet Nam dilemma.

THE FACT REMAINS that the Hanoi government cannot keep up the war without the help of both Red China and the Soviet Union and there is no possibility of a negotiated peace by exchange of statements openly made in the press.

Mrs. Paul Johnston

Mrs. Alice Johnston, 64, of 229 Virginia Ave., Chester, died at 2 p.m. Sunday at the East Liverpool Extended Care Center following a lengthy illness.

She was born in Irondale June 4, 1902, a daughter of the late Chase and Sarah Tolley Criley and was a lifetime resident of the area.

Mrs. Johnston was a member of the Chester First Methodist Church and the Ruth Esther Circle. She had been employed as a legal secretary in the office of W. R. Ingram and James Jordan of Chester.

Surviving are her husband, Paul, at home; two step-daughters, Mrs. Charles (Polly) Sergeant of Weirton and Mrs. Donald (Jane) Houk of Phoenix, Ariz.; a niece, Mrs. Frank (Marjorie) Burgess, and two grandchildren.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Forrest Campbell. Burial will be at Locust Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Myrta Runnion

Mrs. Myrta Runnion, 86, formerly a resident of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., died at Beaver County Hospital Sept. 10 at 10:50 a.m. following a long illness. Mrs. Runnion was born July 19, 1880, in West Unity, Ohio.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Midland.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Winifred Welker of Sandy Lake, Pa., and Mrs. Betty Wright of Midland; three grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Friends may call between 7 and 9 tonight at the Schwerha Funeral Home in Midland.

Services will be Tuesday at 1 p.m. at the funeral home, with the Rev. George Rohlfender officiating. Burial is in Oak Hill Cemetery, Sandy Lake.

Mrs. Helen Brown

Services will be held Wednesday for Mrs. Helen Frances Brown, 90, of Trenton, N. J., onetime city resident, who died Saturday at St. Francis Hospital in Trenton after a year's illness.

She had resided here for about 10 years with her son-in-law, Donald Walsh. Survivors include a granddaughter and a great-granddaughter.

Eli Milanovich

Eli (Miller) Milanovich of 560 Beaver Ave., Midland, died at 7:30 a.m. Sunday in Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh, following a short illness. He was 75.

Mr. Milanovich was born in Austria, Jan. 25, 1891. He was a retired crane operator at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and was a member of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church of Midland.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Anne Tubin of Charleroi and Miss Marie Milanovich and Mrs. Mildred Viakley, both at home; a sister, Mrs. Helen Trbojevic, in Yugoslavia, and three grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Schwerha Funeral Home after 7 tonight.

Services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the St. George Church, with the Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota officiating. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Mrs. Antonio Gallo

LISBON — Services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in St. George Catholic Church for Mrs. Caterina Gallo, 72, of 221 W. High St., who died at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Salem City Hospital.

She was admitted to the hospital only a few hours earlier after a heart attack. Her husband, Antonio Gallo, has been in the same hospital more than three weeks and was on the critical list last week.

Mrs. Gallo was born Nov. 14, 1893, in Italy, a daughter of Felice and Carmela Perri Gallo, and came to Lisbon in 1924. She and Mr. Gallo were married May 5, 1911. She was a member of St. George Church.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mary Spadaro, and a son, Thomas F. Gallo, both of Lisbon; two sisters, Mary Gallo and Filomena Gallo, both in Falerina, Italy; five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. A son, Frank, died March 23, 1957.

The Rev. Stewart J. Platt of the St. George Church will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 today at the Ellis Leggett Funeral Home, where the Rosary will be said at 8 this evening.

Mele Ylic

Mele Ylic, 78, a former resident of Midland, died Sunday at Dixmont State Hospital, where he had been a patient since 1958.

Mr. Ylic was born Dec. 15, 1887, in Yugoslavia. He had worked as a second helper in the blast furnace department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. from 1919 until his retirement in 1955.

Mr. Ylic was a member of the Alexander Karageorgevich Lodge 72 of Midland.

Services will be held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the Cannon Funeral Home at Midland by the Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church at Midland. Burial will be in the Beaver Cemetery, Beaver.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight after 7:30. Memorial services will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The octopus and the squid are related to oysters and clams.

Funeral Rites Are Held For Ronald Rosak

Funeral services were held this morning for Ronald M. Rosak, 18, of Georgetown R. D. 1, whose body was recovered from the Ohio River Saturday about 6:26 p.m.

The youth drowned Thursday night after falling from a barge on the towboat "Sandy," operated by the Harvey Todd Towing Co. of Hookstown. He was a deckhand on the craft, which was hauling materials from the Dravo Corp. dredge operating south of the Newell Bridge.

He toppled into the river just up-river from the bridge and the body was recovered in the same area. Searchers said the body came to the top of the water near where a buoy had been placed to mark the approximate spot the youth entered the water.

Firemen and equipment from Chester, Newell and East Liverpool, Civil Defense units and private individuals aided in the dragging operations.

The body was taken to the Weirton General Hospital for a coroner's examination.

Mr. Rosak, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosak Jr. of Georgetown R. D. 1, was born Nov. 19, 1947, at Stratton. He was a 1966 graduate of South Side High School at Hookstown.

He was a member of St. Andrews Orthodox Greek Catholic Church at Mingo Junction.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by two brothers, John Rosak in the Navy and Paul Rosak at home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Rosak of Georgetown R. D. 1, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Schultz of Stratton.

Services were held at 10:30 at the church. Burial was in Union Cemetery, Toronto. The Welch Funeral Home at Hookstown was in charge of arrangements.

Boyd Criticizes $500 County Suit Against Farmer

LISBON — County Commissioner James Boyd today said he could see "no just reason" for a $500 civil suit filed against a farmer seeking damages claimed as a result of a bull from the County Home wandering onto his land in August.

Frank Murray of Route 172, a dairy farmer, confined the animal on his farm adjacent to the Home, after it went onto his ground, and subsequently asked damages.

Sheriff's deputies returned the bull to the Home last week after the commissioners filed a replevin action to get the animal.

Boyd said Commissioners Max Gard and the late Frank Wilson last year canceled an order of fencing for the Home while Russell Phillips was superintendent there and directed him not to erect any more fences or repair existing ones.

Boyd said the present superintendent, Robert Boyce, this summer purchased 20 rods of woven wire fence, had it taken to the pasture adjoining the Murray farm.

Boyd, lone Republican commissioner on the board, said the fence was unrolled and stood up against the old barbed wire fence, and stapled to the old posts. "Not a post was replaced nor the new wire tightened with a stretcher, and it was through this fence the bull went."

Boyd said the bull bred two of Murray's cows at a time not in accord with Murray's fresh cow schedule. He added the farmer's wife and two daughters were in danger from the bull when they went to the field to get the cows. He declared he could see "no just reason for the county suing Murray for $500 damages."

Chinese Reds Oust Officials

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China indicated today that Chen Yu, governor of China's rich and populous southern province of Kwangtung — Canton — has been sacked. It identified Vice Governor Lin Li-ming as acting governor.

Chen's removal from the office he has held since 1957 was seen in an announcement that said Lin had, with Canton Mayor Tseng Sheng, received a Congolese parliamentary delegation Sunday in Canton. There was no other indication of when or why Chen had been replaced. Lin spoke at a later banquet for the group and was identified as acting governor at a rally in Kwangchow in honor of nine Chinese seamen allegedly killed by U.S. planes in the Gulf of Tonkin.

Chen's province has been in hot water over the Red Guard movement. Mayor Tseng Sheng was reported to have been man-handled by the youths Sept. 3 when he advised them against using force on Chinese visitors from Hong Kong and Macao.

The Peking People's Daily, official paper of Red China's Communist party, has disclosed the existence of a movement urging farmers and laborers to oppose the militant Red Guard movement.

In a broadcast monitored in Tokyo, Radio Peking quoted the paper as saying attacks on the Red Guards must stop.

"Such action cannot be permitted. The Red Guard movement itself is correct. The goals of the Red Guards and the farmers and laborers are basically the same, and therefore they should act in concert with each other," the paper said.

Area Residents Are Married In Rites At Virginia

GEORGETOWN — Miss JoAnn McHaffie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McHaffie, became the bride of A3 Bernard Livada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Livada of Hookstown R.D. 1 on Sept. 2 at Winchester, Va., in a double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a blue and white ensemble. Mrs. Livada is a 1965 graduate of South Side High School. The bridegroom was graduated from South Side in 1963 and is stationed with the Air Force at Dow base in Maine.

The bride will reside with her parents here temporarily, joining her husband in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Holand Morris held a birthday party in honor of their daughter Sharon, with 14 children attending. Mrs. Darla and Mrs. Arthur Beal assisted.

Dr. and Mrs. James Ross of Miamisburg have concluded a visit with Mrs. Ross' mother, Mrs. Wendell Welborn. Mrs. Welborn is now visiting a sister, Mrs. R. S. Parlier of Winston-Salem, N.C.

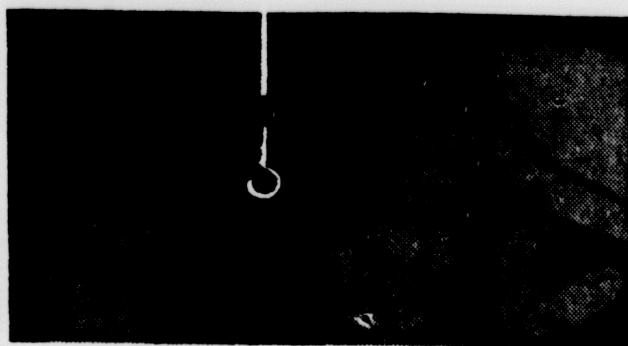

Mr. and Mrs. John Calhoun of Columbus were guests of Mrs. Thomas Calhoun.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmidt entertained the Wilson Bible Class of the Ohio United Presbyterian Church in Hopewell Township Thursday evening with a wiener and corn roast. Twenty attended. Glenn Magee is the class teacher.

Mrs. Louise Wagner honored house guests and former Georgetown residents with an "Auld Lang Syne" party at her home Thursday night. Guests included Mrs. George Simpson of Racine, Mrs. Gail Mackall of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Edgar Pfeffer of Racine, Mrs. Harry Sault of East Liverpool, Mr. and Mrs. George Mackall and son Kevin of Pittsburgh, Miss Margaret Hogan of Midland, Luther Jones of Cadiz and Mrs. William O. Bryan of Uhrichsville. Mrs. Bryan's late husband was superintendent of construction when the railroad was brought to Georgetown.

She and her husband, John, operate a dairy farm on Alderlick Rd., a half mile west of Glasgow. She is a member of the Southern Local Board of Education and was an assistant adviser this year for Helping Hands 4-H Club of Wellsville.

The Hustons have four children, Judy, a sophomore at Southern Local High School, and James, 8th grade; Kathy, 7th grade, and Joe, 5th grade, all at No. 16 School.

Maps Of Zoning Plan

Due To Go On Display

Maps explaining proposed zoning regulations for East Liverpool were scheduled to go on public display today in three locations, according to Don Eckert, chairman of the City Planning Commission.

The maps will be displayed at: The First Federal Savings & Loan Association on Pennsylvania Ave., the Ohio Power Co. office on W. 5th St. and Sevy's Pharmacy on St. Clair Ave. in Maplewood. Another downtown location is being sought for display of a fourth map.

Eckert reminded that three public hearings are slated on the zoning proposal — next Monday at East Junior High School; Sept. 23 at Lincoln School, and Oct. 3, at Westgate School.

1,556 Chest X-Rays

Taken At Columbiana

LISBON — The Columbiana County Public Health League's Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser took 1,556 chest X-rays Friday and Saturday at the Columbiana Street Fair.

The total compares with 1,424 during a similar two-day stand at the same fair last year, according to Lillian Schroeder, executive director of the tuberculosis association.

The mobile unit will be stationed on Courthouse Square in Lisbon for a general public survey Sept. 22-23.

Slaying Case Goes Before Grand Jurors

LISBON — The Columbiana County grand jury, seated last Wednesday, returned to work this morning after a weekend recess.

Eighteen witnesses are due today as the panel investigates the pistol slaying of Rebecca Mae Copestick, 19, last June 19 on a secluded road in Liverpool Township.

Her estranged husband, Charles Leroy Copestick, 25, of 871 Valley Ave., East Liverpool, pleaded not guilty in East Liverpool Municipal Court to a charge of first-degree murder and was bound over to the grand jury. He has been in jail since the preliminary hearing in June because bond is not permitted on such a charge.

The homicide is the only case scheduled today and the investigation into it is to carry over into Tuesday. One other case is scheduled tomorrow. Fourteen witnesses are to appear Wednesday as the jury investigates six cases.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis says the panel will report Wednesday or Thursday.

Burns And Ball, Song Duo

After the veteran entertainer George Burns finished his guest turn for Monday night's new season opener of "The Lucy Show," he checked into the first rest home he could find.

"I never worked that hard in my life," says George, "and I never met anybody who works as hard as Lucy. She drove me out of my skull. I love to sing, as you know, but I love to sit down once in awhile, too."

"I couldn't hide from her during rehearsal. She'd grab me by the arm and go into our dance number. I think she had piano players hidden all around the studio."

DURING a lunch break on the day Lucy's show was filmed in front of an evening audience, George came across Lucy in another area of the huge Desilu lot rehearsing a wild scene on a fork-lift, a big hydraulic one normally used to lift heavy cargo into a truck.

"That was for next week's show," adds George, with astonishment and admiration. "Can you imagine Lucy getting up in the morning and having somebody tell her, 'Lucy, you're not in show business any more'?" "I wouldn't want to be in the room."

Odd as it seems, this is the first time George and Lucy ever worked together. Bobby O'Brien, one of Lucy's writers, thought it would be a funny hook to have George dropping into Mr. Moody's (Gale Gordon) bank where Lucy works and become so intrigued with Lucy's scatterbrained deportment that he (George) wants her to become his partner in a new act.

O'BRIEN presented the idea to George, who would turn down a chance to sing and do his soft-shoe dance only if his throat had been suddenly cut and both legs amputated.

Naturally one of the scenes in the show has Lucy and George singing and dancing. It's the kind of turn he and the late Gracie Allen did in vaudeville for years.

"Lucy's wonderful. She's not a singer, but she sings like Johnson — feet spread apart and everything moving. And when she dances, she makes Fred Astaire look like he's laying off. Lucy is in love with show business, as I said before," her newest fan continues.

George, of course, has been well aware of Lucy. In the early days of TV, he and Gracie did their half-hour comedy show on the same General Service Studio lot where Lucy and Desi Arnaz first began filming their series.

TWO SEASONS ago George met Lucy head on in the same Monday time spot with his "Wendy and Me" series. It was not his choice, and he says now that he and Connie Stevens (who played Wendy) had no chance against Lucy.

Is George thinking of doing another series? He had produced another pilot called McNab's Lab. It starred Cliff Arquette as an inventor whose inventions never worked, but some network nabob thought it was funnier to have McNab's invention work the first time, then fail. George argued, but finally had to give in. The series never sold.

"I've had it now," says George of the series grind. "I like to get up at 9 in the morning, do my Air Force exercises and swim till 11 o'clock, then go to my office, knock off for lunch at 12:30. From 2 to 5 I play bridge at my club and scream at my partners. Then I go home and sing 30 or 40 songs and go back to sleep."

ANY TIME he gets bored with this routine George goes to one of the Nevada night spots with his act, which he reports he finally has found a finish for.

"It's taken me 70 years, but I finally found it. I sing 'It Was a Very Good Year' with some of my own lyrics which include a line about me finally getting my big break in show business because I married the girl."

"When I get to the last chorus with 'Now that the days are short, da-de-de-da-da-da' why, the audience is overcome. It makes a great finish for the act, and do you know something? Sinatra and I are the only two singers who can handle that song," George concludes, modestly.

Theft, Vandalism Incidents Probed

Police are continuing investigation of four instances of petty theft and vandalism reported over the weekend.

Mildred Johnson of 431 Orchard Grove Ave. told officers a 20-inch power mower was stolen from the garage at her home sometime last week.

A coin-operated machine was reported stolen from the counter at Berlie's Diner on Mulberry St. about 2:18 a.m. Sunday.

William H. Johnson of 830 Avondale St. told officers a vandal broke the windshield of his 1960 model car while it was parked on a lot at City Hospital between 5:55 and 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

A vandal fired a bullet which broke 6½-x-7-foot window at the Miller Brothers Drilling Co. building on the River Rd. between 6:30 p.m. Friday and 8:30 a.m. Saturday, police said. Charles Miller of Steubenville and Don Miller of Smiths Ferry were listed as the owners.

Membership Of 690 Listed By Mill Creek Valley Group

Membership in the Mill Creek Valley Historical Association has reached 690, with the addition of 20 to the rolls, during Friday night's meeting at the Independence School on Rt. 151 in Independence Township.

Amendments were approved to increase the number of directors from 15 to 21 and to provide for the disposal of any assets in the event of termination of the society.

The amendment calls for the distribution of assets among other associations as covered by state law regarding tax-free institutions.

When the society was formed in July 1965, 15 directors were elected. They were divided into one-year, two-year and three-year terms. Ten remained at the close of the society's first year of operation.

Eleven new directors, seven to serve for three years and two each for two years and one year, will be named at the next meeting Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. at the school.

Mrs. Marshall Hoover, president, presided Friday night at which time Clifford Smith of Hopewell Township, co-ordinating chairman of the research division, appointed chairmen for various committees. He also discussed the value of research and its impact upon the community and urged members to co-operate fully in the program.

Donald Morgan of Hookstown, chairman of the society's tour committee, reviewed the schedule for a tour which will be conducted all day Saturday, Oct. 1, and screened slides of places to be visited.

He asked those attending the tour to bring their own lunch, thermos and collapsible chair or stool.

The motor tour will begin at 9 a.m. at the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church.

The day's activities will conclude with a visit to Service Creek Church and Cemetery, off Rt. 18, near Mechanicsburg, and the reservoir at the Ambridge Water Authority.

Morgan also showed slides of Indian rocks at Smiths Ferry. Fred Fisher of Greene Township presented Mrs. Hoover with a new gavel made from the wood of a tree supposedly over 2,000 years old.

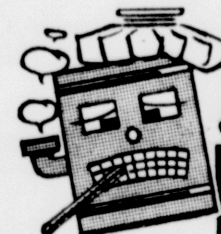

Mrs. Eulalie Whitehill of Aliquippa and her program committee served luncheon.

Miss Linda Shaw Marries In Ceremonies At Lisbon

A white satin gown with detachable train was worn by Miss Linda Shaw when she became the bride of Richard Paul Baldwin the evening of Sept. 2 at 7:30 o'clock in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church of Lisbon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw of Lisbon Route 1. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Baldwin of New Waterford Route 1.

The Rev. Joseph Varner, assisted by Regis Scharf, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

JERRY ROSE, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was soloist. Miss Jodine Pilmer was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, made by Mrs. Regis Scharf, was designed with a scoop neckline, long, pointed sleeves and bell-shaped skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a cabbage rose styled with large petals.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and satin streamers. The familiar traditions were observed.

Mrs. David Scharf of West Point, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Lou Baldwin, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Peggy Lee Day.

Aides were Mrs. Frank Padurean, Mrs. Frank Rice and Mrs. Regis Scharf.

The bride was graduated from the Lewis, Weinberger and Hill Academy of Cosmetology, Inc., and is a former employee of Kathryn's Beauty Shop in Lisbon.

Her husband, a graduate of Beaver Local High School, is employed at the Metropolitan Brick Co. in Darlington, Pa.

The newlyweds are residing at 302 1/2 Maple St., Lisbon.

The rehearsal dinner party was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

"I Will Fear No Evil" was the lesson topic led by Mrs. Alice Weldon during the meeting of the C. and M. Class of the First Christian Church Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Lois Jarvis of Chester Ave.

Mrs. Viola Weekley, president, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer in unison. Dish cloths were distributed to members to sell. The class also will have pecans for sale again for the holiday season. Cards were signed for members who are ill.

Miss Florence Bishop used "Christian Fellowship" as the theme for devotions. Mrs. Weldon closed the meeting with prayer.

Lunch was served 12 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Eleanor Brown and Mrs. Weldon.

The next meeting will be a Halloween party Oct. 13 at the Weldon home on Route 30, East Liverpool. Mrs. Frances McDowell will have devotions and Mrs. Alice Mackall the lesson. Games are to be in charge of Mrs. Grace DeLauder.

Queen of Ohio Council 141 will hold a coverdinner dinner Tuesday night at 6 in the Perpetual Savings and Loan Building.

Members will bring table service, meat, rolls and coffee. Dessert will be furnished.

Husbands of members will be guests.

The regular business meeting will follow at 7:30, with Mrs. Elizabeth Pugh, counselor, in charge.

Present officers were retained when Mary Leighton Class of the Central Methodist Church was entertained Thursday night by Mrs. Doris Knepper of Main St.

They are Mrs. Violet Whittaker and Mrs. Knepper, co-presidents; Mrs. Leila Driggs, secretary, and Harold Driggs, treasurer.

"Rules for Daily Living" was the topic for devotions led by Mrs. Pauline Hermand. She read Matt. 9:9-13 for her scripture, articles "The Thin Line" and "How God Taught Me" and a meditation. Mrs. Whittaker conducted business, when it was announced all-occasion cards will be sold by the class. The Rev. Jack Hampton, a guest, spoke briefly. Mrs. Dora Wilson also was a guest.

Games and contests were arranged by Mrs. Driggs, with

Newlyweds In Lexington Following Wedding Trip

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stockman, who returned last week from a wedding trip to the Poconos, left for work Thursday at "The Red Mile" in Lexington, Ky.

The bridegroom is co-owner of Case Programs, Inc., a mobile printshop which prints racing programs on the harness racing circuit. The bride is the linotype operator.

Returning to Lisbon last month after ending the season at "The Meadows" near Washington, Pa., they were married Aug. 29, in the First Christian Church.

The Rev. William Spangler of the East End Christian Church at Pittsburgh, former Lisbon pastor, officiated for the single-ring ceremony in the presence of the two families.

Miss Phyllis Hadley was maid of honor and Jack Stockman, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

The bride wore a floor-length white gown and a headpiece with a short tiered veil. She carried a hand bouquet of stephanotis and a white orchid.

Miss Hadley's mint gown had a matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white mums.

A reception followed in the church social rooms, where the bride's niece, Marlene McMillan, registered 140 guests.

Serving were Miss Nancy Shattuck, Miss Hadley and Miss Anna Margaret Hamilton. Miss Phyllis Hamilton was hostess and Mrs. Herman Hale was in charge of gifts.

The bride is a daughter of Lee Ikert of N. Market St. and the late Mark Ikert. Stockman is a son of Carl Stockman of Sherman St. and the late Nellie Stockman.

Youth Jumps From Car In Area Mishap

A 19-year-old area youth was injured when he leaped from a car which went over an embankment on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. early this morning.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported three other weekend mishaps, including one in which a truck wrecked when the driver tried to free his dog caught in a seat, another in which a mother's car hit another auto while she was watching her baby and a third in which a car smashed into three parked autos.

Robert Vincent, 19, of Coolidge Ave. was treated at City Hospital for an injury to the right foot when the car in which he was a passenger went over the embankment about 5:15 a.m. Officers said the car, operated by Ronald Lee Passage, 18, of Lisbon R.D. 2, went out of control when the left rear tire blew out while he was headed east about three miles east of Calcutta.

The 1957 coach went off the north side of the road and down an embankment. Vincent jumped out of the car before it went over the hill. Passage, apparently unhurt, was cited for operating an unsafe vehicle.

Robert Paul Taucher, 28, of Rogers R.D. 1 escaped injury late yesterday afternoon when his 1950 truck went off County Rd. 428, about 2 miles south of Rogers.

He was headed north when his dog's leg became stuck in the seat. As he attempted to free the animal, the truck went off the road, hit a culvert, went back across the highway and struck a guy wire. He was charged with driving left of center.

Five vehicles were involved in a mishap on Route 14 about two miles west of Unity at 3:15 p.m. yesterday.

James Swager, 26, of Darlington R.D. 1 attempted to pass two other vehicles and a coach operated by Raney Michael Wharton, 22, of Rogers R.D. 1 as the latter attempted to make a left turn.

In an effort to avoid a collision, Swager lost control, and his 1966 coach skidded broadside off the north side of the road, hitting cars owned by Leon Hatch Jr. of Alliance, the Joanalex Inc. firm of Homestead, Pa., and Dorothy Neil of 325 W. Martin St., East Palestine.

There was considerable damage to Swager's auto, Hatch's and the company's station wagon and the 1959 sedan of the woman.

Cars operated by Raymond Davis, 27, of New Waterford and Beverly McCoy, 21, of Salem were damaged in a collision on Route 422 eight miles east of Columbiana Saturday night.

The woman's compact coupe went left of center and collided with an oncoming car of Davis. She said her attention was focused on her baby prior to the accident. After the impact, Davis' car went into a ditch.

She was charged with driving left of center.

West Virginia Grabs Inmate Who Flew Pen

RIPLEY, W. Va. — A West Virginia Penitentiary inmate who drove out of prison last month in a milk truck was captured at nearby Stat's Mills Sunday at his mother's home, authorities reported.

Crayton Litton, 49, escaped Aug. 27 when he drove the milk delivery truck out the gates and to freedom. He abandoned the truck on a Moundville street.

Four Jackson County officials picked up Litton, who had been serving a 1-10-year sentence for grand larceny from Jackson County.

Scout Aide Urges Youths To Enroll For Fall Activity

Area youths interested in joining the Boy Scouts were urged to enroll as soon as possible to take advantage of fall and winter programs and activities.

William Pomeroy of East Liverpool, Cherokee District chairman, said the membership drive will get under way Monday, with all Cubs, Explorers and Boy Scouts wearing uniforms during the day, including school hours.

Any youths interested in joining Scouting may ask the present Scouts or their leaders about the procedures and the meetings which they may attend.

There are 766 Scouts in the East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester, Newell areas, and efforts are being made to create new units in these communities and in Salineville and Summittville.

The campaign is designed to increase the opportunities for all youths to enter the Scouts, Pomeroy said.

For units which set for themselves an achievement and reach that goal, there will be special awards under a new program termed, "Breakthrough For Youth."

Former Resident Given Promotion By Westinghouse

John A. Burgess of Sequoia Dr., Pittsburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet F. Burgess of 1101 Pope Ave., has been appointed manager of the Reactor Engineering Administration at the Bettis Westinghouse Astronuclear Laboratory in Pittsburgh.

Burgess, who previously held the position of supervisor, engineering release and services, will coordinate and monitor engineering schedules, including drawing and design change releases, reactor parts lists, and data input to the reactor interface control drawings.

He also will assist in the preparation and administration of reactor engineering work statements and budgets and will monitor and report on reactor engineering performance.

Burgess, a 1949 graduate of East Liverpool High School, received his engineering degree at the University of Cincinnati in 1954 and his master's degree at Xavier University in Cincinnati the following year.

He is married to the former Alma Hyder. The couple has four children.

Ex-Resident Honored At Bridgeport Event

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Hay and son, Robert Hay, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Hay of the Bell School Rd. attended an "appreciation dinner" at Bridgeport Friday night for their nephew and cousin, James W. Russell, who was honored by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Russell is a candidate for state representative.

He was born in East Liverpool and formerly resided on May St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Russell, now of Bellaire.

City Hospital Treats 2 Cyclists Hurt In Falls

Two area cyclists were treated at City Hospital over the weekend in falls from their vehicles.

Joseph Simballa of R.D. 3 suffered puncture wounds and bruises of the left leg in a fall from a motorcycle. John Beaver, son of Dorsey Beaver of 169 Thompson Ave., was treated Saturday for severe abrasions of the arms in a fall from a motorbike.

Boiling Water Burns Gas Station Employee

A 23-year-old service station attendant was burned about the face and eyes late Sunday afternoon when hit by a "geyser" of boiling water as he checked a customer's steaming radiator, police reported.

Dale Saling of 207 Locust Alley was burned about 5:03 p.m. while at work at Al's Atlantic Service Station on E. 3rd St., police said. He was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Saling was taken to the hospital in a cruiser by Patrolman W. F. Copestick. He said he loosened the cap on the steaming radiator and waited a few moments for the pressure to escape, but when he removed the cap, the contents of the radiator blew into his face.

Civil Rights Bill Hopes Fading Away In Senate

By DICK BARNES
 ASHINGTON (AP) — The chief Senate sponsor of the stalled civil rights bill refused today to concede defeat. But Senate leaders already were talking about scheduling and adjournment plans if the measure is shelved — as seems inevitable.

"You live in hope and surrender only when you are beaten," said Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., as the absence-plagued Senate prepared to try again today to move into debate on a motion to consider the bill and its controversial open housing provision.

Hart, the bill's floor manager, acknowledged again that without Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's help, no vote can be forced on the bill. But he recalled in an interview how the Senate Republican leader had helped civil rights bills in 1964 and 1965 after first voicing doubts.

This year, however, there is no sign of a change in Dirksen's opposition. Said Hart: "Eventually you see how he votes — at the end of the week we'll know better, we'll know more clearly."

Bendheim's Changes Hands; Was 'In Family For Years'

A modernization program is contemplated by the new owners of Bendheim's Shoe Store at 108 E. 6th St.

Sheridan Winkelman of Painesville and Max Jacobs of Cleveland acquired the long-established business last month from Gordon Bendheim and his sister, Mrs. Leslie Blumenthal.

One of the first steps in the "new image" promised by Winkelman and Jacobs was discontinuance of children's shoes, with the accent now on teen and adult lines.

It was in 1889 that Gustav Bendheim came here from Altoona, Pa., to open a shoe store at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

Several years later larger quarters were needed, so Mr. Bendheim moved to a new structure on the Diamond. But when the Diamond fire struck in 1905, the shoe store burned and the company moved into its present location.

Illness forced the elder Bendheim into retirement in 1925, and he passed the store on to his son, Gordon, and daughter, Mildred. They remained partners for 31 years until last month's sale of the firm. Their father died in 1937 at the age of 75.

In 1946, the owners remodeled the store.

Bendheim has made no plans for the future. He and his wife reside at 3169 St. Clair Ave. The Blumenthals reside on W. 4th St.

Since his marriage in 1951,

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield talked of an Oct. 15 adjournment if the bill is bypassed.

Mansfield, after watching the bill stalled last week by absences and filibustering, said he'll probably move this week to end unlimited debate.

To succeed, however, he would need two-thirds approval — and if Dirksen's Republicans and Southern Democrats remain opposed, Mansfield won't win.

Main root of opposition is the housing provision, which would outlaw discrimination in sale or rental of about 40 per cent of the nation's housing. The bill has passed the House.

If debate is not curtailed, Mansfield said he'll seek a six-day-a-week schedule so the Senate can take up other legislation and adjourn by Oct. 15.

Major items still to be considered include establishment of a Cabinet-level Department of Transportation, two educational aid bills, antipoverty legislation, several appropriations bills and President Johnson's request for legislation to curb business expansion.

Driver Gets 60-Day Term
After Pursuit By Cruiser

An East End man was given a 60-day County Jail term and fined $50 and costs today in Municipal Court on two charges filed as a result of a race with a police cruiser a week ago.

Charles T. Landy of Price St. was given the jail term by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's permit. He was fined on a charge of reckless operation by driving at a high rate of speed while pursued in a cruiser by Patrolman Jack Strobel.

THE OFFICER testified the police department received three complaints on Landy's driving the night of Sept. 3 and early the morning of Sept. 4. About 2:01 a. m. on Sept. 4, he said, he saw Landy's car parked in an alley in Klondyke. But when he approached to talk with the driver, Landy drove away at a high rate of speed, he said.

The patrolman said he pursued Landy's car in a circuitous course along Klondyke streets, including Harvey Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St. and Hazel Alley, but did not succeed in apprehending him. Landy was taken into custody on warrants filed later by the patrolman.

Landy pleaded "no contest" on the reckless driving charge and "not guilty" on the unauthorized driving charge. He declared he was not the motorist pursued by the officer, asserting his car was disabled at the time because of a broken distributor.

Meanwhile, Robert A. Higgins, 35, of the Sprucevale Rd. was fined $250 and costs and given a 30-day County Jail term on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol and given an additional 10-day jail term on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Higgins was cited by Patrolman Charles A. Winters, who testified the defendant's car struck a pedestrian Thursday night at Market and 5th Sts. Higgins pleaded guilty to both charges. Maurie Stahl, 71, of the Travelers Hotel, the pedestrian, escaped with bruises.

Judge Chertoff confiscated Higgins' temporary instruction permit and said he will advise the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Columbus not to issue Higgins a driver's license "for at least a year."

The driver's father, Paul Higgins of W. Church Ln., a passenger in the car at the time of the mishap, was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge filed under state law. The judge remanded him to County Jail until the fine is paid.

IN ANOTHER charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol, the judge granted a continuance until Wednesday. The defendant is Laco Shreve of Industry R.D. 1, cited by the State Highway Patrol Sept. 5

3 at 8:15 p. m. on Route 7 on a charge of driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, $17.50.

Arthur Dale Champ, 24, of Madison Ave., New Cumberland, cited Friday at 7:25 p. m. on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 30, $17.50.

George Leventis of Pittsburgh, arrested Thursday at 7:25 p. m. on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7, $17.50.

Exhibition Slated
By Steam Engine
Group This Week

The 10th annual exhibition of the Tri-State Historical Steam Engine Association will be held Sept. 16-17 at Burgettstown, Earl Hamilton of Lisbon, vice president, has announced.

The event will be at the Dean Fullerton farm on Route 18 between Burgettstown and Hickory.

Old-fashioned steam engines and other equipment dating back to 1900 and earlier will be featured, with the threshing machines, hay balers, timber saws, burr feed mill and steam train planned, along with the steam traction engines which replaced the horse, only to be replaced in turn by gasoline and diesel power.

Two daily parades are planned, with some 6,000 visitors expected. The 300-member historical group conducts the event to preserve the memories of the earlier days when steam was used for heavy-duty jobs.

Goldilocks Sequel

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The intruder who entered Judy Heineman's apartment went away with a full stomach but empty hands. Miss Heineman told police that the pork chops which had been left on a table had been eaten and that the visitor also drank a glass of iced tea while apparently watching television, which he left turned on. Aside from the food, nothing was missing.

Society Will Meet

GEORGETOWN — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Georgetown Methodist Church will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the church. Members are to bring a sack lunch.

At Salem Church Oct. 4-6

6 Topics To Be Featured For Homemakers' Forum

LISBON — A homemakers' forum featuring classes on six topics will be held Oct. 4-6 at the Christian Church on E. 6th St. in Salem.

Ann Overturf, Columbiana County extension agent for home economics, said each homemaker who enrolls will choose the two topics most helpful to her and attend one of the classes each morning and the other each afternoon.

CLASS subjects and instructors follow:

"Understanding the Food Market" — Lois Simonds and Ed Watkins, Ohio State University extension specialists in food marketing. The course will include a tour of the A & P warehouse.

"A Home: Buying, Building or Remodeling" — Miss Overturf. She will discuss floor plans, materials, costs, space requirements and traffic patterns.

"Feeding the Crowd" — Marian Hermance, OSU extension specialist in institutional management. She will discuss serving community meals, food sanitation, kitchen planning and equipment, large quantity recipes and menu plans.

"Clothing Alteration and Remodeling" — Beulah Converse, Mahoning County extension agent for the home economics. Enrollees are to take basic sewing equipment and an unusable garment with a "future". The class will study fashion trends in design, color, fitting, styling and techniques for pressing and construction.

"The Pre-Schooler: How and Why He Ticks" — Margery McBurney, home economics instructor at Ashland College. The physical, mental, emotional and social growth of the preschool child will be considered, along with the parent's role in his development.

"The Years of Involvement: The elementary school child" — Mrs. McBurney. Planners suggest enrollees choose only one of the classes on children.

"Wall Finishes and Paints" — Doris Snook, OSU extension specialist in housing and furnishings.

THE MORNING classes will meet from 9:30 to 11:30 and afternoon classes from 12:30 to 2:30. Total cost per person will be $3.25, which includes the registration fee and three lunches at 75 cents.

Mrs. Naurine Higgins, assistant director of the Ohio Cooperative Extension Service and state leader in home economics, will speak at the first luncheon on "Trends and Problems Facing Homemakers."

Miss Overturf says the forum is the first of its kind for Columbiana and Mahoning counties and is open to any homemaker.

Registration will be limited to the first 250 enrollees and each class will be limited to 50 women. The deadline for enrollment is Friday, Sept. 23.

Homemakers may enroll by sending name and address, the two classes desired plus a first and second alternate class, and the $3.25 fee to Miss Overturf at the extension office, 113 S. Market St., Lisbon, or to Mrs. Converse, Mahoning County extension office, Canfield.

Plans Approved In Jefferson And Mahoning Areas

Neighborhood Youth Corps proposals in Jefferson and Mahoning counties are among 22 which have received blanket approval from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Under the plan, $90,381 would be provided for the Jefferson County area in a program sponsored by the Bishop's Committee for War on Poverty at Steubenville.

Mahoning County would receive $521,712 in a project supported by the Youngstown Area Community Action Council, the Associated Neighborhood Centers and the Youngstown Board of Education.

The 22 statewide projects are designed to provide 9,335 jobs for both "out of school" and "in school" youths to be selected from underprivileged families. They call for a total of $9,089,351 in federal grants pending approval by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Parked Car Damaged When Bumped By Bus

A parked auto was damaged when bumped by a bus Saturday at 3:32 p.m. on E. 5th St. about 20 feet west of Broadway, police reported.

The mishap involved a parked 1966 model auto owned by John E. Everhart of 1418 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1945 model bus owned by the City Transit System of R.D. 2 and operated by Reginald D. DeLauder, 35, of 503 1/2 9th St., Wellsville, police said. There was damage to the left rear fender of the auto.

DeLauder told police he was turning off Broadway onto E. 5th St. Because of oncoming traffic, he pulled to the right, causing the bus to bump the parked car, he said.

Real Cool Cat

WAKEFIELD, Kan. (AP) — Tammy, a kitten belonging to the 8-year-old daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. James Rose, was inadvertently locked in the family's upright deep freeze unit with subfreezing temperatures for 10 hours. But she's apparently none the worse for the experience.

Five Amendments Face Battle In West Virginia

CHARLESTON — Most West Virginia political observers agree that five proposed constitutional amendments, including governor's succession and higher legislative pay, face an uphill struggle to win voter approval in the Nov. 8 election.

With a large stake in one particular amendment, Gov. Hulett C. Smith last week announced formation of a statewide non-partisan citizens' committee to organize support for the whole package.

One amendment would enable Smith to become the first governor in almost a century to run for a second consecutive term.

West Virginia governors have been barred from succeeding themselves ever since the term was lengthened from two to four years with adoption of the present state constitution in 1872.

Smith has said he will consider running for a second term in 1968 if the amendment is ratified. But he hasn't publicly made it more definite than that.

The amendment would permit two consecutive terms, but not a third term without an intervening four years out of office.

The same proposal was put to the voters in 1962 as part of a broader amendment which also provided for state government executive branch reorganization. It was on the ballot with four other amendments, including liquor by the drink. All five were defeated by big margins.

The other four amendments would: Raise legislators' annual salaries from $1,500 to $2,500, empower them to vote themselves payment for their expenses in Charleston, and provide for a 60-day session every year. The legislature now meets 60 days

Man Slays Wife, Wounds Self At Church Services

PITTSBURGH — A Pittsburgh man went to church Sunday and as his five children prayed in a Sunday school class Eugene E. Kaiser fatally shot his estranged wife in an adjoining room and then turned the gun on himself.

Kaiser, 37, was reported in serious condition today at Allegheny General Hospital with a chest wound. He will be charged with murder, police said.

Kaiser's children were in the class, their heads bowed in meditation. Police said the couple's oldest boy, Eugene Jr., 16, looked up and, through the glass doors to an anteroom, saw the shooting.

Officers said Kaiser beckoned his wife to come out of the second floor classroom of the Second Church of Christ Scientist. She did, and police believe he may have asked for a reconciliation.

Det. Ralph Yovetich said Kaiser shot his wife, Joyce, 34, twice in the chest with a .38-caliber revolver.

The couple's other children, William, 11; Thomas, 9; Robert, 7, and Hope, 2, did not see the shooting.

Police, unable to talk to Kaiser, were unable to determine where he has been living since he and Mrs. Kaiser separated. They learned, however, that he had rented a room in Beaver Falls and planned to move in this week. He was reported employed as a guard for a private detective agency.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: We were having a rather plain supper . . . stewed hen and noodles, peas, chilled applesauce and home-made biscuits.

I wanted to jazz it up a little for the kids, so I got out my cookie cutters and went to work on the biscuits.

Result: stars, bells, men, trees, animals.

Who says biscuits have to be round?

Then I got to thinking: Why not do this for luncheon and parties?

It sure makes a conversation piece at the table. Let your imagination run, gals!

IDENTIFYING GEMS

While a jeweler may have a store, sell merchandise and advertise like a clothier, his basic task is quite different than the average retailer. Customers do not carry a piece of clothing, for example, into a store and ask someone about the nature of it, what the fabric is, and who made it. However, jewelers very often must identify and classify as to quality and value, all manner of gemstones. The degree to which they do this, and how accurate they are, determines in large part their worth as a jeweler.

How does a person acquire this ability to judge one mineral from another? In my case, a definite program of study was entered into with the Gemological Institute of America, a school and gem identification laboratory owned by the jeweler industry. Following this, further study was taken to become eligible for membership in the American Gem Society and qualify as a Registered Jeweler. This organization gives tests every year and sets high standards for membership which are checked annually. Non-conformance with AGS rulings, or those of the Better Business Bureau or Federal Trade Commission leads to revocation of membership.

However, when you consider that there are over ten varieties of green minerals in the gem category, all with varying degrees of value, you can see that gem identification knowledge is the prime responsibility of the jeweler.

Mary, this is one of the cutest ideas to come our way in a month of Sundays!

The cookie cutters from a child's baking set would make adorable little biscuits to use for appetizers.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: People have found many uses for empty milk cartons, but did you ever try using one to water house plants?

Try it — the half-gallon carton with a spout are perfect.

MAN OF THE HOUSE.

DEAR HELOISE: On the subject of bathroom floor mats (the ones that should fit around the toilet base but are usually everywhere but where they should be).

I've seen this same problem in many other homes, too, so I thought I would pass on my solution to this aggravating nuisance.

I sewed loops of white elastic thread close to the end of the mat on the underside and hooked them around the bolts that are on each side of the toilet base.

The loops are not one bit noticeable and hold the mat in place.

K. A. McMAHAN.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm a Junior Girl Scout and my hint will help other Scouts.

My sash was always falling off my shoulders.

Then my leader told us the simple answer.

Sew a snap on the underside of the sash where it crosses the shoulder. Sew the other part of the snap to the uniform on the right shoulder.

Now, whatever you do, your sash will not slip off.

Weirton Official To Give Paper At Bogota Meeting

WEIRTON — M. H. Kessler, assistant vice president in the Quality Control Department at the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp., will present a paper during the sixth Latin - American Iron and Steel Congress Sept. 26-30 in Bogota, Colombia.

One of three steel industry men from this country selected by the American Iron and Steel Institute to participate in the Bogota meeting, Kessler will discuss "The Functions of a Quality Control Department."

The congress, being held jointly with the seventh general assembly of the Instituto Latinoamericano del Hierro y el Acero, will feature a technical agenda covering most phases of iron and steel production.

Kessler, a resident of Steubenville has been an employee of Weirton Steel since June 1933, when he started as a trainee in the Metallurgical Department.

In 1935 he was named assistant steel works metallurgist and four years later was promoted to strip steel plant metallurgist.

He was named assistant chief metallurgist in 1949, became chief metallurgist in 1955 and

DEAR HELOISE: We have a small kitchen and were in need of a kitchen stool high enough for our little girl to sit on at mealtime but we didn't have a place to store one when not in use.

My husband found some old broom handles, measured and sawed them off, and slipped them up into the hollow legs of one of the chairs of our chrome dinette set.

Rubber tips for regular chair legs kept them from marring our floor.

You'd be surprised how slick this is — and so inexpensive, too.

The broom handle "boosters" may be sanded and painted to match the chair legs.

Our little girl likes her "chair like Daddy's and Mommy's" real well.

MRS. GEORGE J. RUE.

DEAR HELOISE: When sewing on buttons, I use an embroidery needle (or any needle with a large eye).

I double the thread before threading the needle. I tie the ends together and have four threads.

This way I do not have to make as many stitches through the button.

DEAR HELOISE: Doesn't it irk you to lose one of your favorite earrings and have one left? Sometimes from a matching necklace or bracelet set!

I found a way to make use of an odd earring.

The ornament is generally easy to pry away from the ear screw.

For an attractive hair clip, just glue the pretty ornament onto a pin curl hair clip, using a strong cement.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Without a doubt, my husband has the worst speaking habits in the world. Every sentence is connected with "and" and every other word has an "ah" at the end of it.

If he tells a two-line joke it has at least seven "you knows" and he is the only one who laughs. A person can get nervous just listening. Everywhere he goes people move away from him.

His posture is disgusting. When he sits down he is so bent over that his nose is in line with his knees. He looks up through his eyebrows to speak and appears to have no neck. I have talked to him about this a couple of times during 20 years of marriage and all he does is glare and tell me I'm too critical.

This man is a college graduate and holds a top position. Please tell me what to do about these obnoxious traits. I think his job might be in jeopardy because of them.—HARTFORD WIFE.

Dear Wife: You really do despise the man. Your hostility came through so loud and clear it made my skin crawl. Get professional help and learn why you hate your husband so intensely. If you understood your feelings perhaps you could build a relationship that would be tolerable, at least. I can tell you that your bitterness has nothing whatever to do with either his posture or his speech habits.

Willing Victim

Dear Ann: Our daughter is 28 and going with a man 33. Neither of them ever has been married.

This man told my husband he is interested in Bessie but he doesn't want to buy a pig in a poke. My husband wanted to fight him for calling Bessie a pig. The man explained that he meant no offense — he only wanted to see samples of her washing and ironing and cooking and like that.

Well, Bessie has been getting up at 6 a.m. to bake fancy things (butter is not cheap, by the way) and she rushes home from work to start cooking. The man is a regular eater at our house and he grades the meals A, B and C.

Our electricity bill is sky high because Bessie is doing his washing and ironing. Frankly, I'm good and sick of the whole thing.

Bessie always has lived at home and never paid room and board. She has $8,000 saved for the day when she gets married. This is the first man who has asked her. What should I say—if anything?—TIRED MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Say, "Bessie, if you are going to give free demonstrations, please pay part of the grocery bill as well as the gas and electricity."

Sisters Keeper

Dear Ann: Please don't tell me to mind my own business because if my sister ruins her life and I don't do anything to stop her it will be on my conscience forever.

Dee is only 15. Last week she told me she hates living at home and will do anything to get away. Yesterday she announced that she's going to marry Chuck — a divorced man whose wife walked out four months ago and left him with an infant son. Chuck is 24. His sister is keeping the baby till Chuck remarries.

We have all talked to Dee until we are blue in the face. She is of age in this state and doesn't need permission to marry. Please tell us what to do. — DESPERATE SISTER.

Dear Desperate: If Dee hasn't gotten married by the time your letter appears in the paper, please ask her to wait one more day—and read Tuesday's column.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Scout Marksmen To Compete For Trophy Sept. 17

LISBON — Boy Scouts who won marksmanship trophies this summer on the rifle range at Camp Twin Spruce will compete for a grand trophy Sept. 17.

Participating at 2:30 p.m. at the Salem Hunt Club will be Don Ackerman, Salem Troop 2; Gene Alexander, Greenford Troop 116; Robert Foster, Columbiana Troop 18; Jim Jolly, Calcutta Troop 36; Bruce Wellington, Wellsville Troop 20, and Charles Hutton, Chester, W. Va. Troop 27.

They qualified for the shoot-off by winning awards as the best marksmen at Twin Spruce on Leesville Lake. Each is a champion from one of the six one-week camping sessions offered by Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America.

All campers receive instruction in the use of rifles and air rifles by a National Rifle Association instructor, according to Bennett D. Taylor Jr., council executive.

He said the Scouts end their week in camp "with a new awareness of the potential dangers of firearms and the importance of safety rules and regulations established by the NRA."

Co-chairmen for the shoot-off are Dave Kirby and Arden Crumbaker, both of Salem. They are members of the BSA council and also the Hunt Club, which provides trophies for the weekly matches at camp and the grand trophy for the Sept. 17 match.

The Hunt Club is on Route 62 west of Salem. Taylor said the public is invited to watch the boys compete.

'Educational' Session Set For Brotherhood

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today it is preparing to invite representatives of all its local unions and plantwide committees to attend an "educational" meeting Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. at the union headquarters on Route 7.

International officers will conduct the meeting, designed to acquaint local officers and committeemen with phases of the contract with the U. S. Potters Association; bolster grievance procedure, and improve communications between the international and the local unions.

The IBOP said it expects the meeting will be the first in a series. Refreshments will be served.

Signals Crossed

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. (AP) — The fire department here recently sent two letters to the city council. The first, written by Assistant Fire Chief Bob Ellis, son, urged the council to ban public fireworks displays as a safety measure. Another letter, written by Fire Chief Jesse Hunter and received about the same time, sought permission from the council for issuance of a permit for fireworks at the annual Firemen's night at the ball park.

Painting Of Woodwork

These Helpful Suggestions Can Ease Job

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Painting interior woodwork is considered by most persons to be more a nuisance than painting the much larger surfaces of the rest of a room.

Inevitably, woodwork painting involves the coverage of small, uneven and irregular portions of trim, as well as such things as doors and window frames and sashes.

This usually means a different kind and color of paint, smaller brushes and considerably more care and attention to what you're doing to avoid splashing adjoining surfaces.

THE EASIEST way to paint woodwork is to use the same paint as you are using for the rest of the room.

But very often, especially in rooms other than the kitchen and bathroom, the paint is of the flat type, which means it isn't as washable as enamel.

However, where it is desired to make a small room look larger, painting the woodwork the same color as the walls and ceilings is recommended. This can be done either by using the same flat paint — and trying to avoid fingerprints and dirt marks as much as possible — or using an enamel the same color as that of the walls and ceilings.

As with all painting, the result will depend to a large degree on how much care has been taken to prepare the surface for the new coating.

Most woodwork can be painted over without the necessity of removing the old paint or varnish, provided attention is given to the removal of dirt and grease and the filling of cracks and holes.

Also, any gloss left from the previous finish must be sanded, steel-wooled or covered with one of the liquids made especially for dulling shiny wood.

IF THE woodwork is in especially bad condition, then paint remover will have to be used, carefully following the instructions on the container.

It is best to do small areas at one time. In such cases — or on new woodwork — a primer or enamel undercoater must be used so that the finish coats do not sink into the wood unevenly.

We recently saw a contractor use an unusual method of removing paint from woodwork. Noting that, in this very old house, there were many, many coats of paint on the woodwork and realizing that it would be an enormous job to remove all of it by the usual methods, he combined a paint remover with a wallpaper steamer to accomplish the task.

A water-rinsable paint remover was brushed to the woodwork. After waiting about two minutes, steam was applied to the area for two minutes more. This softened the paint sufficiently so that it could be scraped off with a large putty knife in much faster time than would have been possible without the assistance of the steamer.

'Fire Guns Now,' Reams Implores

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Don't hold Frazier Reams Jr. expects those who want him to be elected back until the last minute, governor, but fire those big campaign guns now!

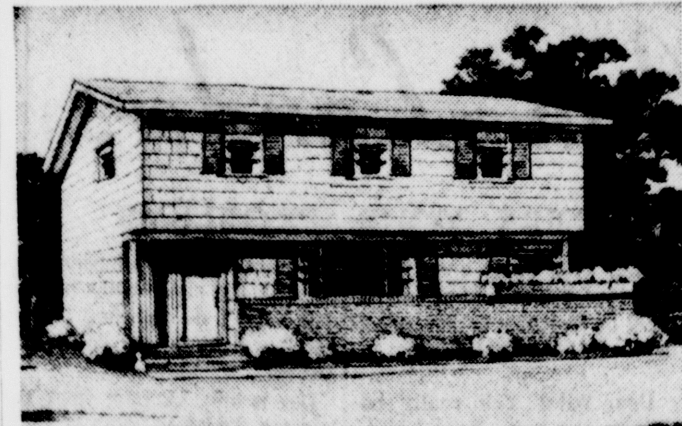

The Democratic state senator from Toledo told about 400 party members at an ox roast here Sunday night that education, mental health and highway safety are prime issues.

It is on those counts especially that they call Rhodes deficient.

Reams reiterated his call for enactment of a "Homestead Exemption Law" he said would "contribute to the security and dignity of the life of the senior citizens of Ohio, and by making passage of schools levies easier, it will forward the education of our children as well."

The proposal is a $2,500 tax exemption on homes of persons 65 and older with incomes of less than $5,000 a year and property valued under $10,000. The measure, Reams said, not only would ease financial burdens on older folk with fixed incomes but encourage them to vote for school issues many now vote against because of constantly increasing taxes.

Record Seen In September

CLEVELAND (AP) — September steel production will total about 10,990,000 tons, a new record for the month, if the current rate is maintained, Steel Magazine said today.

Production for the first 10 days this month averaged 366,357 tons a day. This compared with a daily average of 355,633 tons in 1964 when the September record of 10,668,978 was set.

The weekly journal of metalworking said production dropped to 9,949,355 tons, a daily average of 33,645 tons, in September last year because users began an inventory reduction after signing of a new labor contract in the steel industry.

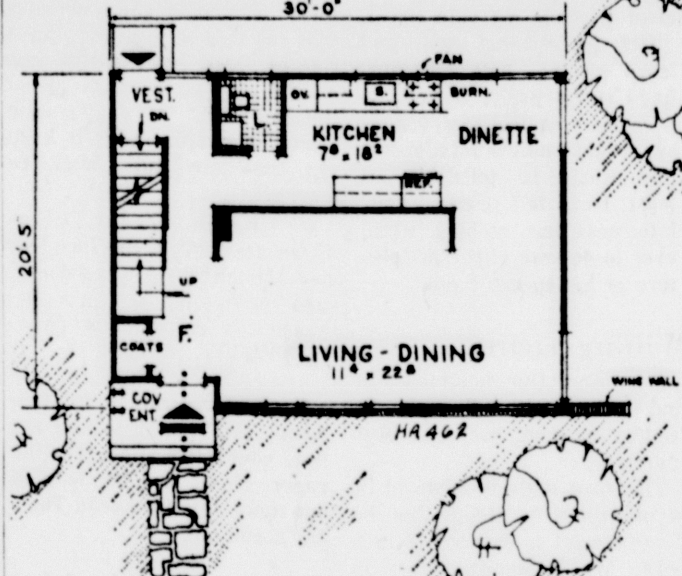

The magazine said production for the first eight months this year totaled about 90 million tons, a drop of 3.7 per cent from the 93.5 million tons produced in the corresponding period of 1965.

Steel consumption by the automobile industry will be heavy in September because the industry is scheduling a record 696,000 passenger cars for assembly this month, Steel said. This compares with 146,667 units produced in August when the industry was changing over to its 1967 models.

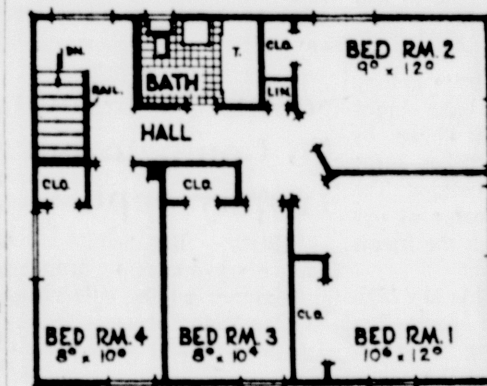

The publication said that any expansion in the auto industry's steel buying will be tempered by the increase in interest rates on money.

"The auto industry and all other users will seek to minimize the amount of money tied up in metal," it explained.

The tight money pinch also is being felt by scrap dealers, the magazine said. Its price composite on No. 1 heavy melting scrap dropped 34 cents to $28.83 a gross ton last week.

-FIRST FLOOR PLAN-

-SECOND FLOOR PLAN-

PLAN HA462 has a parallel type kitchen which allows for maximum use of kitchen cabinet and cupboard space. There is a well lighted separate dinette adjacent to the kitchen with corner windows. Upstairs are the four bedrooms. The arrangement of the bathroom allows the window to be kept out of the tub area. The stair hall has natural lighting. An uncluttered look is accomplished through the combination of brick and shingles. An emphasis is placed on the horizontal look by the use of unbroken fascias, shingle lines, sill height brick and the second cantilever. The first floor is 590 square feet while the second is 660 square feet. The plan is by Herman York, 90-04 161st Street, Jamaica, New York.

Association Presents Ideas On Revamping Of Your Roof

If a do-it-yourself make-over of the exterior of your home is scheduled, don't stop at the top. Go on to revamp the roof as well!

It's easier than you think. Just use the proper materials and follow manufacturers' instructions, whether patching leaky areas or completely recovering the surface, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association says.

In general, roof coatings are sold in five different types: fibered asphalt, non-fibered asphalt, asphalt emulsion, colored aluminum and asphalt-fibered roof cement. Ask your paint or hardware dealer which of these materials is best suited for your roof, and take it from there.

Regardless of the coating you use, there are some general rules for preparing the roof's surface prior to the redecorating. First, assure yourself that the surface is free of moisture and excessive dirt — a thorough sweeping and some sunlight is usually sufficient.

Roof coatings are generally ready for use as manufactured, and thinning is rarely necessary. As for application tools, assemble brushes, rollers, glass or other membranes and a broom. Remove loose roofing materials, dirt and debris from the area, leaving a clean, sound surface. To patch a leaky area, cut a piece of any saturated roofing or patching membrane — aluminum foil, composition roofing, metal, or canvas — somewhat larger than the hole.

Spread roofing cement in and around the hole, covering an area slightly larger than the patching membrane. Place the patch over the roofing cement and press firmly into the material. Spread a second layer of roofing cement over the patch, extending it a few inches beyond to a feather edge.

After all patches are made and allowed to dry, brush the roof coating over the surface in a heavy coat.

To resurface an entire roof area, follow the same surface preparation suggestions used in patching. If the roof surface is extremely dried out, resaturate the felt by application of a prime coat of non-fibered coating and let dry. Emulsion roof coatings are not considered penetrants and should not be used to resaturate felts.

Apply fibered roof coating according to directions for different types of roof membranes and roof surfaces, sufficiently heavy to completely imbed the roofing sheet or membrane. This is accomplished by rolling or brushing so as to eliminate air pockets. For ease of handling and to allow for expansion and contraction, the membrane should be cut into 15-foot lengths and overlap each end and edge 4 inches. Coat each lap as laid.

But the bank now tells us that it cannot give us more than a $14,000 mortgage — and wants to charge us half a per cent more than last year. Is it permitted to do this?

ANSWER: Sorry — but it sure is. Conditions have changed a lot in one year. Money is a lot "tighter," which means that loans are harder to get and cost more when you can get them.

The banks charge more because it costs them more to get money. That same bank, for instance, undoubtedly is paying out more interest to its depositors than it did a year ago. It's not a happy situation for some, but that's the way it is.

QUESTION: I have been told that old mastic and plaster can be removed from the back of ceramic tiles by heating the tiles in an oven. Is this true?

ANSWER: It's true — most of the time. Since ceramic tiles are fired at temperatures in excess of 2,000 degree Fahrenheit, they can be heated without damage. The theory of what you were told is that the heat will cause the backing to become tacky. When the tiles have cooled, the adhesive and plaster are easier to crack off because of shrinkage. To repeat — it works most of the time.

How To Construct Parsons Table

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can build the Parsons table that sales - wise has taken the furniture world by surprise. It's as hot an item as the electric knife proved to be in the appliance industry.

The design is simple, easy for a do-it-yourselfer.

The name originated in the thirties at the Parsons School of Design in New York where the design idea was presented by a critic of the school. The concept, a T-square principle, is based on the idea that each leg is the same width as the table top edge or apron.

IT IS adapted to tables used for many purposes - dining desk, bedside, end, and coffee tables. These can be of any height in wood or metal as long as the basic principle is maintained. The table can be finely finished, lacquered or wallpapered.

One charming effect was achieved by covering a table-height Parsons design with a rich dark brown and gold tortoise shell wallpaper.

It was used against a large scaled gold and white Victorian inspired wallpaper in a hall with a lamp and decorative accessories, although similar tables may be used as sofa or writing tables.

Here's how to make a 30-inch high table measuring 24 inches by 48 inches. The one referred to was made of pine and plywood. Plywood was used for the top, pine (precut at the lumber yard) was used for legs and apron.

For the top, use one-quarter inch plywood cut 24 inches by 48 inches. The four legs are 2 inches by 2 inches by 29 1/4 inches. Two aprons are 1 inch by 2 inches, pine cut 44 inches long. (When finished with the two legs it will measure 24 inches.) Four cross braces of 1 inch by 2 inches, pine are cut 22 inches long. Besides the lumber, you will need nails, hammer, C clamps, white glue, wood filler, flat white oil wood primer, wallpaper paste and wallpaper.

To start making the table, parallel the two long aprons and join them to the 4 cross braces like a ladder.

The two end braces are attached to the ends of the aprons 2 inches in (the leg thickness) from the end of the apron. The other two braces are used inside this to divide the ladder-like framework into thirds. Glue these pieces together and secure with nails.

Next attach legs on the outside edge of the end braces, in the corners made by the aprons. Nail the two end aprons to the legs so that the entire framework forms a rectangle. Glue and nail. Turn the framework over and nail down the top which should fit flush with the framework. Nail and glue. Clamp top to framework until glue is thoroughly dried.

NOW, PREPARE wood for paper. Sand down rough edges, fill nail holes with paste wood filler and coat all wood surfaces to be papered with white flat oil wood primer. Allow to dry and sand again.

Wallpaper that has been trimmed should be centered lengthwise on the table top. Match repeat on either side and cut side strips of paper to cover apron and fold over bottom edge. Length of wallpaper should be cut the same way to cover end aprons. Corners can be mitred with a razor blade before the paste dries.

Tortoise shell, textures, grass cloth and other non-directional papers are preferable for a table as there will be no problem in matching papers when paper is cut for the legs.

Cut paper for legs lengthwise of the roll. For a two-inch-thick leg, cut strips 8 1/2 inches wide by the length of the legs. Start and finish on an inside corner, where seam line will show least.

When the wallpapering is complete and the paste is thoroughly dried, a clear plastic liquid can be applied over the wallpaper to make it stain and gouge proof. A second coat applied after the first is dry will make the surface even more impervious.

'Wood Filler' What It Means To Experts

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The term "wood filler" is used rather loosely, sometimes meaning a material such as putty or plastic wood for filling holes or other openings, and sometimes meaning a paste or liquid which is applied to wood surfaces to close the large pores.

The later definition is the original and true one as far as the wood craftsman is concerned.

A wood filler, to him, has the specific use of removing the textured appearance of mahogany, oak, walnut and other open-pored woods and preparing them to receive ultra - smooth finishes. This type of filler usually comes in paste - like form and is mixed with naphtha, turpentine or whatever liquid the manufacturer specifies to make it workable.

IN ADDITION to the three woods mentioned above, other woods which are sometimes given the wood - filler treatment are chestnut, ash, elm, butternut, rosewood, satinwood, locust and hickory. Note that "sometimes given" phrase. That's because some persons prefer the woody, rough appearance of most of these woods and therefore deliberately avoid applying any wood filler. Your first decision, therefore, is whether you want a smooth or textured finish on the wood.

Wood filler is applied with a brush, putting it on generously in the direction of the grain. A second and immediate application follows, this time against the grain and with light brush strokes.

Within a few minutes, the filler turns from shiny to dull. That is the signal to begin rubbing. Use a piece of burlap and wipe in a kind of circular motion, bearing down as the cloth moves across the grain. Next, using a clean rag, wipe lightly in the direction of the grain.

THROUGHOUT all this operation, be sure that there is plenty of light in the room. This is imperative: first, so you will note instantly when the filler has lost its shiny appearance for the start of the rubbing; and secondly, so that when you have completed the job, you can tell whether the wood filler has effectively closed the pores of the wood. If it has not, repeat the entire procedure, this time using a lighter mixture.

Once you are satisfied that the wood has been filled properly, let it alone for a day. An application of sealer is then necessary to prevent the final finishing material from lifting the filler from the pores. Wood filling is not the easiest part of finishing, so try it out first on some scrap wood before you tackle a good piece of furniture.

New Castle Seabee Arrested In Slaying

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Two Navy Seabees, one from Buffalo, N. Y., were under a murder charge today in the stabbing death of a fellow Seabee, whose body was found beside U.S. Route 49 Sunday.

Police said they arrested Edmund S. Zdanowski, 19, of Buffalo and Leonard A. Douglas, also 19, of New Castle, Pa., on the charge shortly after the discovery of the body of James M. Bray, 18, of Philadelphia.

Police said Bray, who was stationed at the Mobile Construction Battalion Base at Gulfport, had been stabbed several times.

Police declined to give further details.

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Gourdie put 1966 license plates on the two family cars, their tag numbers remained the same as last year. By coincidence, their new plates carry exactly the same letters and numbers as those for 1965—KG-4505 for her and KG-4506 for him.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Lt. (j.g.) Dieter Dengler, Navy flier who escaped his North Vietnamese captors, reportedly has weekend and evening liberties from the naval hospital in San Diego.

Dengler, 26, trekked 23 days through the jungle after being captured by the Communists when his plane was shot down last February. While escaping, he said, he witnessed the recapture and beheading of another escapee, an Air Force pilot.

He was admitted to the hospital July 27.

The San Diego Union, in a copyrighted story, reported Saturday that Dengler's first night out of the hospital was spent at a downtown night club on Aug. 18.

Dodgers Sweep Into NL Lead On Strength Of 2 Shutouts

By The Associated Press
The National League pennant puzzle is still a long way from solution, but Los Angeles run-rejectors are beginning to fill in the blanks.

Sandy Koufax and three other Dodger pitchers kept Houston off the scoreboard for 18 innings Sunday as Los Angeles grounded the Astros 4-0 and 1-0, thereby sweeping into the league lead for the first time in five weeks.

The double shutout, coupled with St. Louis' 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh, sent the Dodgers one game ahead of the staggering Pirates and two in front of San Francisco in the torrid race.

Pirates Game Back; Frisco Splits

After Koufax fired a six-hitter for his 23rd victory of the season, Joe Moeller, Bob Miller and Phil Regan scattered seven hits in the nightcap, completing a string of four straight shutouts over the Astros.

Claude Osteen blanked them 7-0 Friday night and Don Drysdale collaborated with Regan in Saturday's 1-0, 10-inning victory.

The Dodger staff has thrown 18 shutouts — five by Koufax — while compiling a brilliant earned run average of 2.69. Regan, who has contributed to one-third of the Dodger victories with 13 victories and 15 saves, and Koufax, 23-8, lead the way with ERAs of 1.64 and 1.81, respectively.

The Giants dropped their third straight to the last-place Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in the first game of a doubleheader but rebounded 2-0 behind Bob Bolin's three-hitter to stay within range of the leaders.

The Atlanta Braves whipped New York 8-3 for their sixth straight victory and Philadelphia drubbed Cincinnati 9-3 in other NL games.

In the American League, Minnesota slugged Baltimore 11-6, Kansas City topped Detroit 5-1, California trimmed Cleveland 8-2, Chicago beat Washington 4-1 and New York downed Boston 4-2 in 10 innings.

Pinch-hitter John Roseboro delivered a run-scoring single in the seventh inning of the nightcap, enabling the Dodger pitching trio to edge Houston's Chris Zachary. Miller, who replaced starter Moeller in the sixth, was the winner.

Ron Fairly singled across the only run Koufax needed in the fourth inning of the opener, and Willie Davis' bloop double scored the last two runs in a three-run fifth.

Tim McCarver's two-out, bases-loaded single off reliever Roy Face in the eighth wiped out a 3-2 Pittsburgh lead and handed the Pirates their fifth loss in the last six games. Singles by Julian Javier and Lou Brock, a ground out and an intentional walk set the stage for the Cardinal catcher.

Bolin set the Cubs down in order until Randy Hundley's lead-off double in the sixth and the Giants in front 1-0. The Cubs, trailing 2-0 in the sixth inning of the opener, home run in the eighth after fifth-inning doubles by Willie Billy Williams' two-run homer, Mays and Jim Hart had sent off loser Ray Sadecki.

Mitchell New Coach Of Cagers At W. & M.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — William and Mary Colleges new head basketball coach is a native Virginian and a veteran of Southern Conference basketball. Warren Mitchell, 33, was Davidson coach Lefty Driesell's assistant for the last two seasons. He was selected from a field of 44 candidates for the W&M job. The new coach was All-Southern player at The University of Richmond in 1956-57.

The National Football League opener matched the opponents in last season's memorable Western Conference playoff and the Packers, who squeezed through last December with Unitas sidelined, won easily this time.

They did it by embarrassing Baltimore's peerless quarterback, with three interceptions, two of them providing touchdowns in the final moments of the first half.

Unitas, who sat out the 1965 championship game with a bad knee, was leading 3-0 late in the second period when he threw a pass intended for Raymond Berry.

"I never saw Caffey," Unitas said later. "Berry was wide open when I looked."

It was Caffey who was wide open when Unitas threw. The 250-pound linebacker, who can run the 100 in a fraction over 10 seconds, dashed 52 yards for the touchdown.

In Sunday's openers, Cleveland ripped Washington 38-14, Los Angeles spoiled Atlanta's debut 19-14, Detroit upset Chicago 14-3, St. Louis outlasted Philadelphia 16-13, Minnesota rallied to tie San Francisco 20-20 and New York and Pittsburgh battled to a 34-34 deadlock.

Cleveland, the defending Eastern Conference champion who played for the first time without the retired Jimmy Brown, looked listless in the first half against Washington. But Frank Ryan pulled the Browns together with three touchdown passes and Cleveland turned three interceptions and a recovered fumble into touchdowns for the victory.

Bruce Gossett kicked four field goals for Los Angeles and the Rams held on to beat fledgling Atlanta.

Detroit, winless in five exhibitions, stunned Chicago, scoring both its touchdowns in the second period. Tom Nowatzke wiped out a 3-0 Bear lead with a six-yard run and then Milt Plum hit Pat Studstill on a 25-yard pass for another score. After that, the Lions' defense stifled Chicago's attack.

he raced wide to the left and picked up a first down on the Mt. Vernon nine. One play later, with 9:09 remaining in the second quarter, McVay on a keeper, with a good fake, rolled to his left and went in for the equalizer from nine yards out.

McVAY'S attempted run for the two-point conversion was halted.

The Potters scored the next time they got their hands on the ball, this time being guided by Diddle at quarterback.

Diddle completed the first pass of his varsity career for 18 yards to Smith. This put the ball on the Mt. Vernon 36. Diddle fired another completion to Christian, this time good for 29 yards to the Jackets' seven.

After Herring picked up two to the five, Smith, cutting back, at the right time, ran into the end zone standing up to put East Liverpool in front for good with 4:53 left in the first half. A Diddle-to-Smith pass was good for the conversion and a 14-6 lead.

In the third period, a fumble on a deep reverse play put the Potters in the hole on their own three-yard line. McVay booted out to the 33, with Fairchild returning to the Potter 19.

A PLAY later Whetsel flipped a short pass to Mark Ulrey on a touchdown play covering 18 yards. Halfback Garry Keene, in an attempt to tie the game, was stopped, but Mt. Vernon was within two points, 14-12.

Mt. Vernon's touchdown came with 5:15 remaining in the third quarter. But 40 seconds later the explosive Potters scored again on Smith's brilliant 65-yard run.

The play was well executed as Diddle faked brilliantly, causing the flow of Mt. Vernon defenders to go away from Smith as the Potter halfback scooted down the east sideline for a 20-12 lead. A pass for the conversion was intercepted.

East Liverpool's final touchdown was turned in a 51-yard pass play from Diddle to Musuraca. The sophomore fullback took the ball just beyond the line of scrimmage and rambled the remaining distance for the tally. Again the conversion try was halted.

MT. VERNON had a golden opportunity to score with about six minutes left in the game when Mike Grubaugh blocked a Potter punt and teammate Mike Leonard recovered the ball on the East Liverpool eight-yard line.

A Whetsel-to-Fairchild pass was completed, but for no gain, and was followed by a five-yard offside penalty, putting the ball back to the 13.

Whetsel hit Leonard with a seven-yard pass to the six, but two pass plays failed as the final attempt was knocked out of the receivers hands by defensive halfback Mike Jackson.

SMITH emerged as the chief ground gainer in the opener with 124 yards in eight carries. Musuraca was next in line with

Rhodes Stresses Ohio's Job Needs

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes, campaigning at an ox roast and an amusement park Sunday, called for increased efforts by all Ohioans to cut unemployment.

Rhodes told an estimated crowd of 50,000 at Euclid Beach Park in Cleveland that 55,000 new jobs "are needed right now in Ohio."

Earlier at Painesville Township Park, the governor addressed 2,500 at a Lake County GOP ox roast and said the next four years will be the most crucial in Ohio economic development.

New jobs can come only from new industry, Rhodes said at Euclid Beach.

Mothers, Daughter Reduce Together

Is it advisable or possible for a person to reduce if she has been fat since childhood? Is there one diet that is better than another? Do pills help? Do calisthenics reshape proportions? These questions are asked repeatedly. Today's story, in which a mother and daughter reduce together, answers these queries. Every line of the letter carries conviction.

"My daughter and I finally met the weight challenge. I had been fat all my life. At age 14 I weighed 175 pounds. I'll never forget my embarrassment when the school nurse would check us over and I outweighed the teacher!

Ohio Northern Gets Second $500,000 Gift

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Northern University, which received about $500,000 as a gift from Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Heterick some years ago, is getting another $540,437 from the estate of the Albuquerque, N.M., couple.

The bequest was announced over the weekend, and ONU said this sum will be applied to construction of the Heterick Library for which ground was broken Aug. 26. Mrs. Heterick, the former Frances Felker, was a 1907 graduate of Ohio Northern.

Mothers, Daughter Reduce Together

"I CARRIED this weight through the years. I married and had a daughter who was also inclined to be fat. At the age of 22 she weighed 196 pounds and by then I had reached 189 pounds. We both wore size 20½ and we are only 5' 2" tall.

"We decided to reduce together. We each bought a pair of scales. Then we started counting calories. We planned good meals, but concentrated on low-calorie foods such as cottage cheese, skim milk and low-calorie salad dressing. We ate lots of fresh vegetables and had lean meat, fish or chicken. We each had one slice of bread a day.

"To cut calories, we omitted gravies, candy and all rich foods. When we wanted a soft drink we chose the low-calorie type. We took turns preparing our low-calorie meals and this was fun and a challenge. We did not take reducing pills.

"My daughter exercises daily. The calisthenics helped to reshape her figure. I joined her part of the time. It was exciting when we began to take turns in our clothes, sewing them down to fit our smaller size.

"WE LOST a considerable part of the excess in the first year which convinced us that our new way of eating was the right way to reduce. Everyone asks us how we did it and we can say we did it by our own merits, by simply changing our ways of eating."

Readers, please note: They did not take pills or go on and off faddy diets. The best reducing plan is to eat good food, but skip the fatteners as this mother and daughter did. It was five years this summer since their starting date. They stayed slim.

Conclusion: 'My daughter weighs 115 pounds and wears size 9 and 10. I weigh 135 pounds and wear a size 14½. Getting down to right weight sure makes a wonderful difference in our lives and in the way we feel and look. Keep your encouraging words coming."

Cheers for this mother and daughter team!

County TB Clinic Submits Report

LISBON — The Columbiana County Tuberculosis Control Clinic at the Courthouse reported one new case of tuberculosis in August.

Clinic personnel gave 92 chest X-rays and 182 Mantoux tuberculin tests. Nurses made 74 home visits and Dr. F. G. Kraviec, director, had six consultations with patients.

Two patients were placed on medication, bringing to 148 the number on drug therapy at home.

Columbiana County has 15 persons in TB hospitals, 10 at the general health district — all parts of the county outside the four cities; five from Salem, three from East Liverpool, and two from Wellsville.

Seven are in the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital at Columbus, four in veterans' hospitals, three in Molly Stark Sanatorium, near Canton, and one at Mahoning County Sanatorium.

One patient was admitted to a hospital last month and one was discharged.

Man's Body Found

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—The body of a 38-year-old Bedford Heights man was recovered from Ladue Reservoir Sunday. Geauga County sheriff's deputies said Raymond V. Roach, 6709 Balsam Drive, was fishing in the reservoir when his boat overturned Saturday night.

VETERANS! KAISER

And Others

325 E. 9TH STREET. Older six room home, easily duplexed, nearly new Bryant gas furnace, double frame garage. Needs some work but worth seeing at $3,500.

HUSTON AVENUE. One of the best in its price class, two large bedrooms, new gas furnace, painted walls, white frame exterior, recent yard, near the school. Only $3,700.

1123 ST. GEORGE STREET. Three bedroom family home, full basement, gas heating. Nice front porch, level private back yard, level location. Selling to settle an estate. Price $6,300.

825-827 LAURA AVENUE. Double house (five and bath on either side), good condition, automatic heating, always rented, near the school, and priced right at $8,000 with $600 down payment — your rent from the other side will nearly make your payment.

1061 ST. GEORGE STREET. Nice solid three bedroom home, full basement, modern furnace with blower, newly painted on the inside — also a real nice five room home on the rear of the lot with modern kitchen and gas furnace (always rented). Both homes can go at $10,500 and the rent from the smaller one will nearly pay your loan.

Also have (four) good downtown homes in the price range from $9,000 to $13,000. Inquire!

A Junior Editors Quiz About ATLANTIS

QUESTION: What happened to the lost continent of Atlantis?

ANSWER: As civilization grew in the Old World, rumors arose of strange lands to the west. The great Greek philosopher and writer, Plato, who lived between 427 and 347 B.C., took the legend of a large imaginary island or continent to the west, Atlantis, and wrote about it in great detail. He explained that once an empire existed there, and that its armies had invaded Europe successfully, with only Athens resisting its attacks. Then, went on Plato, great earthquakes split Atlantis to pieces and the continent sank below the sea. This story became famous and was believed by many persons. Maps such as we show were drawn with rivers and cities. However, in recent years, oceanographic expeditions have probed the ocean bottoms and made depth maps, which show no trace of Atlantis under the area it was supposed to occupy. Only the narrow submerged mountain range, the Mid-Atlantic Ridge, raises itself above the ocean floor. It is now reasonably clear that Atlantis was a mythical continent only.

FOR YOU TO DO: We still dream of fascinating unknown countries, but these new worlds lie out in space. Make a collection of pictures showing what is known of the moon's surface.

James Podolski of Moosup, Conn., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, Sept. 12, the 255th day of 1966. There are 110 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1918, United States forces advanced on two fronts to wipe out the St. Mihiel Salient in France. It was the first battle in World War I entirely planned and executed by American units.
On this date:
In 1941, the prices of anthracite coal in the United States were frozen.

In 1942, the Japanese made new landings in the Solomon Islands.
In 1944, American troops invaded Germany at a second point near the Belgium border.
One year ago — Authorities closed off a 40-mile stretch of the lower Mississippi River as they searched for a missing barge loaded with 600 tons of deadly chlorine gas.
